CORPUS CHRISTI IN DEMAND RANGERS BE MOVED FROM CITY

CLAIMED BY OFFICIALS THAT BLOODSHED WOULD RESULT UNLESS RECALLED

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 1.—(AP)—The mayor, district attorney and sheriff here today wired Adjutant General Carl Nesbitt that there would be bloodshed here tomorrow if Nesbitt did not recall rangers who are here investigating absentee voting.

Corpus Christi will hold a city election tomorrow.

Charges of false imprisonment were filed today against Ranger A. Y. Alee and City Detective Ed Flint by Maxwell P. Dunne, an undertaker and political leader. The charges grew out of a fight this morning between Dunne and Alee, after the arrest of Dave Allen, a political associate of Dunne.

Dunne is supporting H. Roy Giles, one of three candidates for mayor. The others are A. C. McCaughan, present finance commissioner, and G. O. Garrett.

Mayor William Shaffer and Sheriff William Shelby, who wired Nesbitt, are backing different candidates, and District Attorney R. B. Rentfro, Jr., who also appealed to the adjutant general, said he was trying to keep out of the political fight.

Some eight thousand votes are expected to be cast in the election tomorrow.

Mayor Shaffer is backing McCaughan and Sheriff Shelby is supporting G. O. Garrett.

Nesbitt would not say what or who prompted the ranger investigation.

Nesbitt Denies Knowledge.

AUSTIN, April 1.—(AP)—Adjutant General Carl Nesbitt said this afternoon that he had not heard of threatened "bloodshed" at Corpus Christi, assertedly as a result of investigation by Texas rangers of absentee voting there.

Nesbitt stated he had not yet received telegrams from city and

Oklahoma Youth Saved From Chair By Commutation

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 1.—(AP)—Billy Prescott, 19-year-old slayer, was saved from the electric chair today by a commutation of sentence signed by Governor Marland. Prescott was to have been electrocuted April 5.

Marland followed recommendations of his unofficial pardon and parole board in changing Prescott's sentence to life imprisonment.

The youth was sentenced to death in Muskogee county for the murder of Joe Bell, McAlester traveling man.

POPE FEELS THAT WAR SUCH CRIME IT ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE

CARDINALS GATHERED FOR SECRET CONSISTORY TOLD WAR IS FOOLISH

By ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Foreign Staff.
(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press.)

VATICAN CITY, April 1.—(AP)—Pope Pius told a secret consistory of 20 cardinals today that war is "impossible."

He said it was impossible because:

1. "It would be so enormous a crime, such a foolish manifestation of fury."

2. "We cannot persuade ourselves that those who should have at heart the prosperity and well-being of the people wish to push to suicide, ruin, and extermination not only their own nation but a great part of humanity."

3. "To us, as to many others, there is manifest the physical and material impossibility of war in the present most serious circumstance."

Prelates said the allocution was one of the strongest speeches his holiness has ever made and that his red-hatted audience remained

CORSICANA VOTERS TO NAME OFFICERS ELECTION TUESDAY

POLLS OPEN AT 8 A. M. AND CLOSE 6 P. M.; THIRTEEN NAMES ON TICKET

Citizens of Corsicana will decide upon the occupancy of five municipal offices at the annual city election Tuesday, with indications that a record number of votes as well as a record list of candidates would feature the balloting. Thirteen names appear on the ticket with only five to be elected. Voting strength of the city with exemptions estimated is approximately 1,600 ballots.

City Secretary J. P. Welch reported Monday morning that a total of 21 absentee ballots had been cast in the Tuesday primary, and the time limit for such voting would not expire until Monday night.

Entries in the mayor's and commissioner's race within two weeks of the election aroused unusual interest in municipal politics this year, and will probably result in a high vote being cast. Economic administrations are proposed by a majority of the candidates as the major planks in their platforms, but there are apparently other issues in the campaign that have been discussed privately and have not been brought out openly in the electioneering.

The polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. with voting places located in each of the four wards as follows:

Ward One—Pickering Lumber Company, J. W. Wright, presiding judge.

Ward Two—Fire Station No. 2, John R. Carson, presiding judge.

Ward Three—Courthouse, A. N. Justiss, presiding judge.

Ward Four—City Hall, C. S. Wood, presiding judge.

SIX FLIERS MET DEATHS IN SUNDAY PLANE ACCIDENTS

TWO KILLED WHEN PLANES LOCKED WINGS AT CORPUS CHRISTI AIRPORT

(By The Associated Press.)

Six fliers plunged to their deaths in Sunday accidents witnessed by hundreds of spectators.

A plane piloted by Jack Barston, veteran glider pilot, locked wings with another flown by Eddie Johnson, manager of the Corpus Christi, Tex., airport, and fell a hundred feet away from scores of spectators. Barstow and Jack Cowgill, reporter for the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, who was a passenger, were killed. Johnson escaped with only minor injuries.

At De Leon, Tex., a student pilot, Cecil Cook, 20, was burned to death after his plane fell from a low altitude and burst into flames two miles south of the city.

RUSSIA PLEDGES TO AID PEACE

Russia gave England assurance that the Soviet government would bend every effort toward peace in Europe at a parley held in Moscow between Captain Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal, and Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commisar for foreign affairs. HOUSE SENT WORK RELIEF BILL BACK CONFERENCE TODAY

SEEK ELIMINATION DIRECT WORK LIMITATION; NECESSARY TWO-THIRDS

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—The house stood by President Roosevelt today to send the $4,800,000 work relief bill back to conference with the senate for elimination of the "direct work" limitation. The vote was 249 to 110.

With differences raging in the senate, its course was uncertain.

Senator Robinson—the New Deal leader—indicated that if necessary new conferees would be selected there to take out the disputed clause.

Senator Glass (D-Va.) as head of the original senate managers, defended the limitation on the floor as well as in a pointed letter to Secretary Ickes.

House Democrats jumped into line when word that the president objected to the requirement at issue was passed around. Not a word was said in debate, however, about the message they had

FREESTONE COUNTY ATTORNEY'S BRIEF CASE STOLEN HERE

Bowlen Bond, county attorney of Freestone county, informed city officers Sunday night that his brief case containing valuable papers had been stolen from his automobile while it was parked near a Corsicana hospital.

Officers immediately began a search for the case but had found no trace of it Monday morning. Any one finding the case is asked to return it to police headquarters or to the Daily Sun office.

The case contained a number of papers in the Faulkner case slated to start trial in district court at Waxahachie Monday morning, and the county attorney was very anxious to regain possession of them. He did not discover the loss until he reached Ennis Sunday night on his way to the Ellis county seat, and notified officers immediately. A number of other objects in the car were not disturbed.

Man Gives Bills Away To Friends For Souvenirs

SAN ANGELO, April 1.—(AP)—Today was All Fools' Day, and friends of I. W. Daniel, 81, shook their heads.

The aging man distributed $1,500 among his friends, handing out bills ranging from $2 to $20.

"I wont' be here much longer, and I might as well pass this on to my friends," was his comment.

The recipients will not spend the money, but instead, will save it as souvenirs. It is Confederate currency which Daniel saved from a fire at the close of the Civil war.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST SOIL EROSION IN STATE IS PLANNED

REGION REPRESENTATIVES OF SERVICE HOLD MEETING HERE ON MONDAY

A co-ordinated campaign against soil erosion in Texas was in the making in Corsicana on Monday afternoon as regional representatives of teh soil erosion service met to unify the work in the state following the recent centralization of all erosion control work under the U. S. department of agriculture in Washington recently.

Among those attending the meeting were Dr. H. V. Geib, regional director of the soil erosion service at Temple; L. P. Merrell, regional director at Lindale; H. O. Hill, chief agricultural engineer of the soil erosion service; U. S. Allison, state technician, for the erosion camps in Texas, and R. M. Marshall, soil expert from Lindale.

Dr. Geib stated that the meeting had as its main objective the effecting of the transfer of soil erosion camps from the forest service to the soil erosion service. He pointed out that not all of the camps that have been maintained by the forest service would be affected but only those who were

Making Effort Secure Another Core in Dobbins

Drillers started in the hole on the McGlothlin-Davant Dobbins No. 1 at noon Monday after another core with the possibilities strong that the recovery would determine the fate of Corsicana's latest search for production in the woodbine levels. The crew anticipated that the round trip would be completed about 5 o'clock.

The hard cap that has been giving considerable difficulty in the securing of a core was finally penetrated late Saturday through use of a hard head core barrel, and several inches of sandy shale was penetrated beneath it. Drillers estimated that the cap rock was about twelve or fifteen inches thick although the core recovered was only about four inches long. The formation was extremely hard and apparently had no regular lines of cleavage.

The crew completed the taking of Saturday's core about 9 p. m. by the light of automobile headlamps turned on the derrick floor from several angles.

MANNER OF BARRING NEGROES IN TEXAS PRIMARIES UPHELD

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS RIGHT LIMIT DEMOCRATIC PARTY MEMBERSHIP

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—The method employed in Texas to bar negroes from voting at democratic primaries — by restricting membership in the party to whites—was sustained today by the supreme court.

The action of the Texas democratic convention in May, 1932, in limiting party members to white citizens qualified to vote under state laws was challenged by R. R. Grovey, a 44-year-old Harris county negro.

In 1932 the supreme court declared invalid a Texas statute which prohibited negroes from voting at democratic elections. Since then the same results have been sought by action of the democratic party organization.

Asserting he was qualified under state laws to vote as a member of the democratic party, Grovey said he was prevented from doing so in the July, 1934, democratic primary through refusal of Albert Townsend, county clerk, to give him a ballot.

He sued for $10 damages in a justice court and lost. Although this small amount gives no right of appeal, the supreme court agreed to review the case.

The court held the negro was

COUNTY PLANNING IMMEDIATE ACTION TO COLLECT TAXES

"BIG FELLOWS" RIDING COUNTY WILL BE MADE TO PAY, INDICATED

Immediate attachments, garnishments, etc., against oil companies and the "big fellows" who are "riding" the county on delinquent taxes was intimated at the regular meeting of the Navarro county commissioners court Monday morning following a conference between the court and John R. Curington, criminal district attorney. Curington said suits had been filed for several years but no service had been returned. He stated he would take immediate and active steps.

C. E. McWilliams, county judge, stated at the commissioners meeting Monday morning that some of those owing large delinquent tax amounts were "riding the county" and had intimated they would not pay the tax levies. In the discussion, it was brought out that the attitude of the court against the people unable to pay would be more or less lenient, but those able to pay would be pushed for the levies.

Claims were allowed expect as noted on the claim docket.

Two persons were placed on the pauper roll at $5 per month and

RANGERS NOT WANTED IN NAVARRO COUNTY SAYS DISTRICT JUDGE

LOCAL ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES COMPETENT TO ENFORCE LAWS HERE

Declaring that Navarro county doesn't need Texas Rangers to enforce the law, urging indictments against law violations, and stressing the fact that reckless speeding on the highways with intoxicated drivers at the wheel should be curbed, J. S. Callicutt, judge of the Thirteenth judicial district court, empanelled the April term grand jury Monday morning.

Referring to gambling, etc., and activities of Texas Rangers, Judge Callicutt stated:

"We don't need the rangers here and I hope they don't come here. As far as I am concerned, the rangers are uninvited."

Judge Callicutt recalled that his predecessor, the late Judge Hawkins Scarborough, didn't invite outside help during the oil boom years to enforce the law and said that he (Callicutt)) would not ask

ADJOURNMENT VOTED BY HOUSE BECAUSE CROWDED CALENDAR

"FILIBUSTER FOR POSITION" IS CHARGED BY SPONSOR RESOLUTION

AUSTIN, April 1.—(AP)—The house of representatives voted 101 to 31 today to adjourn the regular session of the Texas legislature May 7 although predictions were freely made it would force a special session immediately to consider emergency administration legislation that will die on the calendar.

Representative W. E. Jones of Jourdanton asserted it was apparent the calendars had become so confused that most of the bills advocated by Gov. James V. Allred would find themselves in the legislative graveyard regardless of the length of the regular session.

The adjournment date proposed by Jones would consume the 120 days set aside for regular sessions.

Jones said he believed the senate would adopt the resolution.

Jones' resolution came after a morning of special motions in which members sought to place their bills in favored positions. Bills to regulate utilities, increase inheritance taxes and double the state's share of taxes on horse race wagers, to prohibit intrastate sales of cigarettes without state stamps under the guise of interstate commerce and nearly a score of others were tabled subject to call and may be brought up on a day's notice.

"You can determine from the house's action this morning that from now on we will witness a filibuster for position," Jones commented. "Most of the bills on the calendar have no chance to come up anyway."

Representative Vernon Isaacks of Rainbow said he feared the action would be construed as forcing a special session.

"It appears this session will fail in major accomplishments anyway and it would be a saving to bring it to an early end," Jones countered.

Representative R. Emmett Morse of Houston asserted it was impossible for the house to determine five weeks in advance whether it would be ready to adjourn, but his motion to table the resolu-

Russian Woman Makes Jump From Plane at 20,853

MOSCOW, April 1.—(AP)—Valentina Fedoroffa, the wife of a red army officer, today claimed the world woman's parachute jumping record after an asserted leap of 6,350 meters—20,853 feet—from an airplane near Leningrad yesterday. She made the jump without oxygen apparatus. Mme. Fedoroffa was reported to have been in the air 22 minutes after she left the plane.

POLITICAL OBSERVERS NOTE WITH INTEREST ATTEMPTS OF LONG AND COUGHLIN GAIN AID

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—The capital noted with interest today that both Huey P. Long and Father Charles E. Coughlin are now engaged in an intensified effort to build up their organizations.

Political observers with eyes on 1936 did not overlook the fact that Senator Long, in a radio speech last night, devoted much of his time to an appeal for support of his share-the-wealth-clubs—though he got in a few swipes at the Roosevelt administration.

Nor was Father Coughlin's announcement of a new setup for his national union for social justice lost upon them. He disclosed that the membership would be concentrated into state organizations, which would have nation-wide radio meetings.

With speculation about a third party movement forming the theme of much political discussion, the Louisiana Senator brought the subject up last night. He said President Roosevelt himself once had a third party in mind.

"When Roosevelt was making all his promises before his nomination in Chicago and it looked like we would not be able to hold the thing in line, he phones to us that he would run as a third party candidate if he failed to secure the nomination," Long said.

"Now the Rooosevelt brigade," Long declared, "is sounding out the cry that they very much fear a third party in the United States."

POLAND OPPOSING ANY ATTEMPT LINK WITH EASTERN PACT

TENSE SITUATION WILL FACE CAPTAIN ANTHONY EDEN MONDAY NIGHT

By A. D. STEFFERUD
(Associated Press Foreign Staff).

WARSAW, Poland, April 1.—(AP)—Firm opposition to any attempt to link Poland into the proposed Eastern security pact seemed certain today to confront Captain Anthony Eden when he arrives tonight for his discussions with Chief Joseph Pilsudski, the Polish dictator.

Hostility to the projected Eastern pact, which Russia favors and Germany opposes, is frequently voiced in semi-official circles on the grounds it might possibly relegate Poland becoming a battleground for the other powers.

Referring to Eden's impending visit the official Gazeta Polska says "Eden, who has seen opposite viewpoints regarding the East-pact in Berlin and Moscow will be able to understand better the situation and the policy of a country located between two large countries having such divergent problems and attitudes."

The aged dictator may content himself tomorrow with only a

RAILROAD WORKERS GET FINAL PAY CUT RESTORED APRIL 1

BOOST FOR NEARLY MILLION MEN AMOUNTS TO APPROXIMATELY $80,000,000

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—The beginning of April brought a bit of cheer today to the men who work for the railroads. A 5 per cent pay boost for the employes—950,000 of them—went into effect. The total rise is estimated at $80,000,000 a yaer.

The boost, which results from an agreement growing out of a 1932 cut in pay, comes two days after the roads received permission from the interestate commerce commission to place emergency charges on many kinds of freight, expected to raise $85,000,000 a year.

In granting this permission Saturday, the I. C. C. refused, however, to allow permanent general increases designed to raise $170,000,000 a year. Calling general freight advances an "inadequate and dangerous" method of meeting problems, the commission turned instead to the temporary method of emergency charges.

Though granting the wage rise in accordance with agreement, the roads will soon seek a cut. W. F. Thierhoff, general manager of the Chicago Burlington and Quincy

DESPITE WAR-LIKE ACTIVITY GERMAN YOUTH DECLARED TO BE LONGING FOR CONTINUED PEACE

(Does the emphasis upon soldierly bearing foster militarism in Germany? Won't the young man who is taught hero worship want to test his prowess some day on the field of battle? And what of the danger that blind obedience and subordination may kill individual initiative and responsibility? These questions, agitating many an anxious father and mother in Germany today, were presented to Baldur Von Schirach, reich youth leader, by Louis P. Lochner, chief of the Berlin bureau of the Associated Press. Von Schirach's views are expressed in the following interview.)

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, April 1.—(AP)—German youth does not desire war, its 28 year old leader, Baldur Von Schirach, said today. On the contrary, he contends, despite its belligerency, it craves nothing more than international peace.

Von Schirach is Reichsfueher Hitler's chosen leader for the 6,000,000 German boys and girls who are banded in Nazi youth organizations. In his opinion, the power of youth is much more important for deciding great political issues than the experience of age.

"In contrast to many other states which begin to train their youth in the use of arms at the early age of 14," he said, "German youth isn't trained militarily at all before entering the army. Our sports are on the whole confined to gymnastics, calisthenics, athletics and movements by formations in fields and forests. Besides there is a very limited amount of training in shooting with pop guns.

FREAKISH WEATHER VISITED ON TEXAS DURING WEEK-END

STORMS ALONG COAST AND DUST OVER NORTHERN PART OF STATE

(By The Associated Press)

Texas weather played tricks over the week-end, bringing wind and rain storms to the coastal region that took two lives and damaged property and at the same time forming a haze of dust over the Panhandle and South Plains sections.

Sweeping across the country at a velocity of 36 miles an hour, the wind disrupted communication wires, uprooted trees and blew down oil field derricks on the coast.

Several wire poles were blown down at Deepwater and one of them crashed through the house of Mrs. Petra Ecpinosa, 38, and crushed her.

Isaac Jones, negro, was electrocuted when he became entangled in electric wires in a Houston street.

Rains measuring over an inch and severe electrical disturbances accompanied the wind, which blew intermittently until mid-afternoon

...T DECISION OF I. C. C., ...OWEVER, GRANTS RIGHT FOR EMERGENCY CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 30.—(AP)—American railroads were denied the right to make a horizontal increase in freight rates today but at the same time were authorized by the interstate commerce commission in a split decision again to add emergency charges to existing rates.

The emergency charges will apply to a large part of the freight traffic of the country until June 30, 1936.

They are similar, said a commission resume, except in amounts, to those which were authorized in 1931 and which ended September 30, 1933.

The decision was reached by a vote of 5 to 4. Commissioners McManamy, Lee, Mahaffie and Splawn took the view that the railroads are confronted by a grave emergency which warrants some measure of relief for the next 15 months.

Chairman Tate and Commissioners Atchison, Porter and Miller dissented, asserting they believe railroad rates now are at "the ceiling of reasonableness" and that increase of a general nature would make them unreasonable and tend to defeat their own purpose by alienating traffic from the railroads.

Emergency Charges.

The emergency charges in general on carload traffic will be 7 per cent of the total line haul transportation charge subject to a maximum of five cents per 100 pounds. On a long list of commodities, however, specific maximum charges of less than five cents are provided. No additional charge is authorized on less than carload traffic for distances under 220 miles and where the haul is for greater distances the charges range from one to 11 cents according to distance.

No emergency charges are authorized for farm products in general. Fresh vegetables, fruit, cattle, sheep, hogs, milk, lumber and fertilizers are included in the exemption.

Emergency charges are authorized on coal and coke ranging from three to 15 cents per net ton and on iron ore at 10 cents per net ton.

These items always are treated specially in commission rate cases. On lake cargo coal and iron ore it is specified that a single increase shall apply even though there may be two rail hauls separated by water movement. Under the 1931 emergency charges the railroads applied separate surcharges on each rail haul.

The charge of petroleum products is fixed at one cent per 100 pounds. On sand, gravel and certain kinds of stone a maximum of one cent per 100 pounds is authorized where the line haul rates are $1 per ton or over.

No charge is permitted where the rate is less than $1. Switching charges are to be increased 10 per cent.

A proposal of the railroads to make a charge of $1 for issuance of bills of lading was disapproved.

The majority report did not give any estimate of the additional revenue railroads would probably derive, but in his dissening opinion Commissioner Miller said that it would appear to afford about one-half of the additional revenue estimated by the carriers in their proposal."

The carriers estimated the additional revenue they were asking at $170,000,000 a year.

TEXAS, OKLAHOMA PLAN TO CONTINUE SOIL EROSION FIGHT

PARIS, March 30.—(AP)—Texas and Oklahoma plan to continue their war on destructive soil erosion.

At a meeting of erosion council agencies of the two states here yesterday a committee was appointed to correlate work of agencies interested in curbing erosion.

C. M. Evans of Marshall, regional advisor of rural rehabilitation for the southwest, appointed M. R. Bentley, extension agricultural engineer of College Station, Texas; W. M. Burkes, Texas supervisor of conservation service, and one representative from each of the federal demonstration projects in Texas to the committee.

The Texas projects are located at Lindale, Dalhart and Temple.

Paul H. Walser of the project at Lindale said terracing was only one phase of soil erosion control.

"A successful control program must include retirement of submarginal lands, strip crop planting and proper terrace outlets," he said. "Terracing is of little value on slopes of more than 8 per cent or less than 3 per cent."

Ben Harrison of Oklahoma City, state supervisor of erosion control of the federal department of agriculture in Oklahoma, said that in his state practically every available man on rural rehabilitation projects was given work running terracing contours.

Wortham Vocational Classes on Trips

WORTHAM, Marevh 29.—(Spl.)—Under the leadership of S. L. Adams ,the vocational classes of the Wortham public schools visited the Gulf pump station this week. Mr. Van Cleve, superintendent, gave valuable and useful information regarding the plant.

Mr. Adams, vocational agriculture teacher in the Wortham schools, and the Future Farmer club, enjoyed a profitable day at the Fat Stock Show last week. The class has been doing tree trimming, roses, terracing and working out other valuable projects.

Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse was called as a witness in court at Waxahachie Friday.

HONOR SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS OF FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH 1933-34

Special services have been arranged at the First Presbyterian church at both Sunday school and worship hours Sunday to pay tribute to the honor class for the past two years. An award of honor will be made to each member of the class at the Sunday school hour.

The class is taught by Mrs. Lillie Ransom and for the past two years has led the entire school with an average attendance of 84.4 per cent each Sunday. To make this mark all the more worthy of note, the record was established in spite of the fact that one member of the group was unable to attend for almost a year because of an injury that kept her bedridden. The class was first organized about 70 years ago.

There are 12 members of the class and their teacher, whose record in this capacity covers a period of 18 years, and the average age of the group is 76 years, while the individual ages run from 60 to 88 years. Leaders of the church declare that the class is the spiritual center of the school and church, and worthy of every honor that can be bestowed upon it. They are also planning to lay claim to the honor for the class of being the oldest class of regular attendants within their denomination.

A special assembly of the entire Sunday school is scheduled for 10 o'clock Sunday morning and an explanation of the award of honor will be made by Will Thompson, general superintendent. Mrs. Boyce Martin will be presented as guest soloist, and Miss Elizabeth Ann Mitchell will be presented in an appropriate reading.

A recent photograph of the entire class and its teacher will form the award of honor and a picture will be presented to each member by C. G. Davidson. Further tribute it planned for the class at the morning worship hour.

Membership of the class includes Mrs. Ransom, teacher, and Mesdames Emma Blair, Clara Pinkston, Kate Elliston, Julia J. Christian, Maggie Blake, Bettie Harris, Stella Willis, Lena Rice, Elizabeth Greenlee, Clintonia Atkisson, Laura Baker and Annie Bonner.

GRAND JURY URGES ALL GAME DEVICES SEIZED DESTROYED

TOTAL OF 129 INDICTMENTS RETURNED AND 299 WITNESSES EXAMINED

In the final report made to District Judge J. S. Callicutt Friday afternoon by the January term grand jury, the investigators urged that all gaming devices seized in raids be destroyed. The written report stated that the officers, city and county, aided the probers in every manner possible and that the county institutions—jail, county farm and P. and S. Hospital were in good condition and are being managed well. The report stated:

"We recommend that your Honor instruct the county officers to destroy all gambling devices and paraphenalia that they now have and may find in future raids."

The grand jury recommended that the hospital board and management "be as lenient as possible with the charity patients."

The grand jury was in session 24 days, examined 299 witnesses and returned 129 indictments.

Twenty-seven indictments were returned Friday afternoon as follows:

Violation of the prohibition laws, 1; burglary, 6; theft, 4; murder, 1; perjury, 1; receiving and concealing stolen property, 2; furnishing, equipping and permitting on premises under his control, a gaming device and establishing a lottery, 12. The last named indictments were on slot machines and those named in the indictments were Lloyd Hill, Tom Ratliff, James Johnapelus, W. H. Milam, Jr., 2; John Hitt, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Berry, 3; Edna Gray, Buck Davis, and Clyde Crocker.

The slot machine indictments were misdemeanors and an order was issued by District Judge Callicutt Friday afternoon transferring the cases to the county court.

The murder indictment returned Friday afternoon was against George Ketchey of Leon county who is in th Navarro county jail on a formal complaint after being remanded to jail without bail by Judge W. T. McFadden earlier in the week as a result of the death of Wm. J. Towns, 36, of Corsicana, in a local hospital last week as the result of knife wounds received in Leon county.

The report of the grand jury was signed J. O. Burke, foreman; G. C. Cunninghan., E. S. Crews, D. E. Magee, R. L. Campbell, A. T. Hardaway, J. A. Harris, G. A. Morgan, A. C. McClung, C. D Owen, R. E. Irvine.

Four Desperadoes Shoot Officer On Dallas Highway

DALLAS, March 30.—(AP)—A Dallas policeman was wounded and a police car was shot full of holes early today in a running gun fight with four fleeing desperadoes on the northwest highway.

The gunmen, driving a late-model maroon sedan, escaped with a load of cigarets taken in a Cooper, Texas, burglary during the night.

Three Dallas policemen—Lieut. J. B. Wicker, B. C. Brown and G. L. Dorff, were advised of the burglary and went to the edge of the city to watch for the thieves' car. It passed the police patrol car at a high rate of speed, going west toward Fort Worth. The police gave chase.

The fugitives opened fire on the pursuing officers, and a bullet grazed Policeman Dorff's right forearm.

Lieut. Wicker and Dorff returned the fire with their pistols but it was doubtful whether they hit the speeding car.

Wholesale Grocery Robbed

COOPER, Delta County, Texas, March 30.—(AP)—The Smith Wholesale Company here was robbed of cigarets and chewing gum valued at about $500 early today by four burglars who escaped in a maroon (Ford V-8) sedan, speeding toward Dallas. West of Dallas they engaged in a running gun fight with Dallas police, but escaped.

Four cases of cigarets and six cases of chewing gum were taken by the burglars after they had pried open the front door of the wholesale house.

A woman living across the street saw the burglars coming out of the wholesale house with their loot and she fired a shot to warn the night watchman. The burglars sped out of town.

SOVIET WRITER SAYS AMERICA CLOSELY BOUND TO EUROPEAN AFFAIRS IN SPITE OF POLICIES

By JOHN LLOYD
(Associated Press Foreign Staff).

MOSCOW, March 30.—(AP)—The Soviet press, often the mouthpiece of the government, launched today what many observers believe to be a frank bid for United States co-operation in the preservation of European peace while Anthony Eden of Great Britain and Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff continued their talks over a luncheon tabel at Litvinoff's country home.

"America's fate is bound up with that of Europe," said the government's organ for heavy industry, Za Industrializatziu, declared, adding that "she could not avoid becoming involved in a European war."

While Eden was preparing to wind up the momentous Russian conversations, continuing his peace trip to Warsaw and homeward, the public here still awaited official news of his discussion yesterday with Joseph Stalin. No government communique had been issued.

Meanwhile, the press declared its belief that at least leading capitalistic circles in the United States "realize that war can be postponed only through accord of United States policy with that of other parties interested in the protection of an European status quo."

In its first direct comment since Eden's talks began, the government organ, Izvestia, resumed its charge that Germany is anxious to seize Ukraine. Observers viewed it as significant also that the press declared the U. S. S. R. was standing firm for the proposed Eastern security pact.

Za Industri lizatziu's article, which was signed by Michael Tanin, the newspaper's highly credited writer on foreign affairs, said:

"At the moment of an extremely tense atmosphere in Europe in connection with the aggressive attitude of German Nazis, American diplomacy is manifesting indecision."

He declared that America's position in international affairs has become distinctly worse as a result of recent events in the Far East which he said the American press has been describing as "closely connected with the breaking of the Versailles treaty by Germany."

Eden-Litvinoff Continue.

Captain Anthony Eden, British Lord Privy Seal, and Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff met again for luncheon at the latter's country house 30 miles from Moscow.

Lord Chilston, British ambassador to Moscow, and other British and Russian personages were present. While it was not formally scheduled as a conference it was understood that the luncheon was followed by a continuation of the talks which have been in progress for the last two days.

While Eden prepared to close the conversations which have taken him to the capitals of France, Germany and Russia in the interests of European peace, his momentous discussion of yesterday with Joseph Stalin still awaited revelation in a communique.

"The United States," Tanin's article continued, "can never isolate itself from Europe. It is quite obvious that she is involved in the orbit of the world's economy and this means also the world's politics."

American Position Worse.

The idea that the American position in international affairs has become worse can be gained, he said, "by comparing the position now after Japan has denounced the Washington treaty in order to get naval parity with the position at the moment this treaty was formulated—or when the United States was at the summit of its power."

The newspaper comment was the first directly bearing on the Eutalks began.

An article in Izvestia, the government organ, signed by its editor, Nicolai Bucharin, said:

"Soviet Russia is standing energetically and firmly on the idea of an Eastern Europe security pact."

He predicted Poland would be converted to a vassal state of Germany. He again charged that Germany has an ambition to seize the Ukraine, thus continuing his arguments for an Eastern pact which the Soviet press pursued prior to the British minister's visit.

WITH BROKEN HEARTS WORTH NOT A PENNY NEW YORKERS IN DIFFERENT REACTION TO LAW

ALBANY, N. Y., March 30.—(AP)—A broken heart isn't worth a dime in New York state today and from Mr., Mrs., and Miss Citizen came both cheers and moans.

"Now who'll buy me my next steak?" wailed an attractive and vivacious night club dancer.

"They tell me the governor signed that bill killing off heart balm and alienation of affection suits yesterday, and believe me I'll have my fingers crossed from now on when some guy starts talking."

Pretty, blond Jean Corda, the girl who takes your hat and coat in one of the city's leading hotels, laughed it off, saying:

"My chance for breach of promise has come and gone. I've had plenty of chances to get married and there'll be plenty more. I'm not worried."

Senator John McNaboe, who fathered the bill and fought for its passage by the legislature, had his ideas on the subject.

"This is the day when men come into their own," he said.

Echoing the senator's sentiments was Eugene Bernini, a waiter.

"This bill will get rid of a while lot of gold diggers," he said.

Three women, representing a cross section of social, business and home life, took time from their duties to praise the bill.

"It is encouraging to know that the state has taken steps to stop vicious blackmail," the business woman said.

One of Albany's most prominent society women added. "It is a very good thing if it does away with the practice of victimizing innocent men."

"I don't know anything about those things, but it's a good idea," said a young housewife.

The new law specifically bans suits for breach of promise, seduction, alienation of affection and adultry. The states penal laws, however, against seduction and other offenses are not affected.

Bank Deposits In Corsicana Show Increase

At the close of business March 4, 1935, total bank deposits in Corsicana financial institutions showed an increase of $315,806.02, as compared with March, 1934, it was disclosed in official statements issued Saturday.

March 4, 1935, the total deposits in the Corsicana banks amounted to $5,897,069.52 as compared with total deposits of $5,581,263.50, March, 1934.

One Person Burned To Death In Small Mississippi Hotel

PACHUTA, Miss., March 30.—(AP)—One person was burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed the small Beavers hotel in Pachuta and the lives of T. A. Beavers, the hotel owner and his family were saved by the screeching of a passing locomotive whose crew discovered the blaze.

The body, burned to a crisp in a guest room, was tentatively identified as that of the only guest in the hotel, Lonnie Green, 25, a Pachuta youth who served in a civilian conservation corps camp at Quitman, Miss.

The heroes of the fire were members of the crew of Southern Railway company, fast freight train No. 52, known as the "Bullet" which was passing through Meridian.

The crew saw the hotel afire without any attendant commotion and Engineer Roy Stroble of Meridian sounded the whistle in loud, shrill tones until the hotel residents were aroused from their slumbers.

IMPROVEMENT SHOWN IN BUSINESS OVER SAME TIME YEAR AGO

DEPARTMENT STORE SALES SHOW MARKED IMPROVEMENT IN RESERVE DISTRICT

DALLAS, Texas, March 30.—(AP)—Evidence of improvement in the underlying condition of business and industry, and department store sales in large centers topping those of a year ago by 7 per cent are salients of the monthly business review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, released today.

Department stores of the larger cities not only exceeded their sales of the corresponding month of 1934 but forged 4 per cent ahead of the volume for January of this year, the review says. Practically all reporting lines of wholesale trade distribution in the federal reserve district, it adds, showed favorable comparisons with both the previous month and the corresponding month a year ago.

Beneficial rains which fell over most of the district have bettered the agricultural outlook, particularly in the western half where the moisture deficiency has been of major concern for some time past. Favorable weather has enabled farmers to proceed rapidly with the preparation of the soil for spring planting and early spring seeding operations are well under way in the southern part of the district.

Small grains have shown a noticeable improvement as a result of favorable growing weather and added moisture. While the condition of ranges and livestock still is very poor over much of the district grass and weeds have made a good start and with timely rains soon should furnish considerable grazing thereby greatly reducing the amount of range feeding.

Livestock came through the winter without serious losses and will mend rapidly as pasturage become available. Livestock prices have risen rapidly since the first of the year and cattle prices are at the highest level reached in several years.

Distribution movements showed a broadening trend despite some irregularity resulting, from unseasonable weather.

Construction Activity.

Construction activity continued in substantial volume. Although the valuation of building permits issued at larger cities declined 57 per cent as compared with the large January total, it exceeded that of the same month last year by 116 per cent.

The combined net demand and time deposits of member banks in this district rose to the highest level in four years during February. The average for the month amounted to $806,280,000, which was $19,385,000 above that for January and $77,817,000 higher than in February, 1934.

Investments of member banks in selected cities rose moderately during the four weeks ending March 13, and commercial loans, while declining seasonally during the period were somewhat higher than at this season last year.

Federal reserve bank loans to member banks increased from $37,000 on Feb. 15 to $115,000 on March 15, and this bank's advances to established industrial and commercial businesses for working capital purposes were expanded $131,000 during the same period.

Corporation Court.

Six charges of intoxication, one of intoxication and disturbing the peace, one of running through a red light, two for vagrancy, two for affray, and two for swindling with worthless checks appeared on the docket of the Corporation Court Monday morning. The two involved on the check charges were transferred to county authorities, and the others faced Judge H. S. Melear in the municipal court.

"Full Feeling" After Meals

Here is how Thedford's Black-Draught proved helpful to Mr. Archie W. Brown, of Fort Green, Fla.: "I have taken Black-Draught when I have felt dull from overeating or eating too hurriedly," he writes. "Small doses right after meals rid me of gases and heavy feeling. I am a great believer in Black-Draught."

SPRING SEASON IS BRINGING POLITICAL FORECASTS IN TEXAS

WHAT WILL ALLRED, STEVESON, M'CRAW AND OTHERS DO IS MOOT QUESTION

By CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, March 30.—(AP)—Stirring of political undercurrents, even in this off year, is noticed as the trees on Capitol Hill begin to bud and the grass takes on a green hue.

It may be that most political campaigns are conceived and set in motion in the spring or that springlike weather turns a statesman's thoughts to his political fences and a survey of the possibilities.

Many rumors and speculations enter the politicians' discussions during leisure moments.

Such wonderings as the following are floating about:

Will Governor Allred seek a second term or election to the United States senate to succeed Morris Sheppard, Texas' senior senator?

If Allred decided to try to step up a rung of the political ladder would Coke R. Stevenson, speaker of the house, seek the governorship or try first for the attorney general's office?

Would Bill McCraw threw his hat into the gubernatorial campaign if Allred stepped out and what would be Walter Woodul's attitude toward moving from the office of lieutenant governor to that of governor.

Hunter Not Discouraged.

There also are persistent reports that Tom F. Hunter, runner-up in the last Democratic primary, has not cast aside all thought of things political and is awaiting another opportunity. Hunter's attitude, his friends state, will depend largely on events during the next 12 months. Whether he would campaign against Allred for second term his friends were unable to say.

Some of Stevenson's intimates do not believe he would seek the governorship and several doubt if the attractions of the attorney general's office would be sufficient to interest him in a statewide campaign. It was pointed out that Stevenson's residence, Junction, placed him under a geograhpical handicap. It is in the sparsely populated ranch country and sufficiently removed from centers of population to be a political drawback in a statewide race.

Speakership.

It is extremely doubtful whether Stevenson would undertake to establish another record by seeking election to a third successive term as speaker of the house. In fact, he would not have sought reelection as speaker of the 44th legislature had it not been for the urgings of his colleagues.

The story is that Stevenson was greatly surprised when a petition signed by more than 100 members of the 43rd requesting him to run again was presented. He is unwilling, friends say, to go through another bitter fight for the office.

There also is some speculation over the political ambitions of Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas railroad commission. Thompson comes up for re-election next year. It would not surprise some observers to see him enter the gubernatorial race should Allred seek another office.

Depositors In Closed Bank Be Paid In Full

SAN ANTONIO, March 30.—(AP)—With negotiations for a Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan completed, depositors of the closed Commonwealth Bank and Trust Company will be paid off in full on or about April 15.

This announcement came today from Whit George, special liquidating agent for the state banking department. A loan of $875,000 long under negotiation, was finally approved today.

CONTROVERSY OVER SHARECROPPERS IS RESUMED SATURDAY

MARKED TREE, Ark., March 30.—(AP)—The Arkansas "planter-sharecropper" cointroversy quickened today with word of a negro's death in Mississippi and the caustic suggestion by a citizen's committee for a federal investigation of the Harlem riot in New York.

The suggestion for an investigation of the Harlem disturbance was wired to Senator Joseph T. Robinson by the Marked Tree Cooperative Association shortly after receipt of word that the body of a negro, described as an organizer of tenant farmers, had been found in Mississippi.

Referring to the recent appeal to Senator Robinson by Norman Thomas, Socialist party leader, for federal intervention in Arkansas "to prevent a massacre," the committee wired Robinson:

"Massacre in New York might be possible. Don't worry about Arkansas, provided New York agitators stay at home."

The committee said it had had "excellent co-operation" from tenants and landowners despite opposition by "professional agitators such as Roger Baldwin, Norman Thomas and so forth, whose activities take advantage of ignorance to creat racial and class hatred."

Sheriff Sid Campbell said: "I guess the negro, the Rev. T. A. Allen of Marks, Miss., probably was killed by some plantation owners."

The body was found near Hernando, Miss., 60 miles from here. Neither officers nor officials of the Southern Tenant Farmers' Union, foremost opponent of the plantation system of farming, connected the Hernando case directly with the Arkansas activities.

In the negro's coat lapel was a button on which was inscribed "Every Man a King." In his pockets were papers concerning share cropper organization work.

Inauguration of the federal government's cotton acreage reduction program has led to complaints that tenants are being evicted illegally.

ESTES GROCERIES SPONSOR COOKING SCHOOL NEXT WEEK

MISS ZELLA ALLEN, CULINARY EXPERT, WILL BE IN CHARGE OF EVENT

The building at 111 North Main street, formerly occupied by the Ellis Tire and Battery Company was being put into condition Saturday for the Estes grocery company's free cooking school, which will be conducted by Miss Zella Allen, culinary expert Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

The school wil begin at 2:15 each afternoon, and continue until about 5 o'clock. Chairs for 500 people are being provided.

Miss Allen is not a stranger to Corsicana housewives, as she has successfully conducted two cooking schools sponsored by the Daily Sun in the past few years and has given her hearers not only new and tempting recipes and well-balanced menus but has also given them useful hints and new wrinkles in kitchencraft.

A platform was being built Saturday, and the building being put into condition for the four-day school. Prizes will be given away each afternoon. The school is being given to the housewives of Corsicana as a celebration of Estes Stores' twelfth anniversary.

The companies co-operating with the Estes management include:

Brown Cracker and Candy Company; El Food mayonnaise; Acme Flour, Colgate Palmolive-Peet company, Kelloggs All-Bran, Millers Corn Flakes, Centex Meal, McIlhenny tabasco, White House rice, Wolf Brand chil and tamales, Admiration coffee, Sea Island sugar, Skinners macaroni and spaghetti, Libby McNeil and Libby canned goods and Clabber Girl baking powder.

Miss Eleanor Sawyer, Norge Economist, To Give Demonstrations

Miss Eleanor Sawyer, Norge factory home economist, will be in Corsicana Wednesday and Thursday of next week to conduct a special demonstration of cold cookery under the auspices of the W. M. Tatum hardware company, local Norge electric refrigerator dealers.

The demonstration will be conducted each day, Wednesday and Thursday, April 3 and 4, starting at 2 p. m. at 202 North Beaton street, in the building next door to the W. M. Tatum hardware company. The general public is cordially invited to attend. A full line of Norge refrigerators will be on display.

PALESTINE NINE UNABLE TO SOLVE LOCAL PITCHING

TERRELL BROTHERS' CHUNKING HAMMERED HARD BY REFINERS

Magnolia Refiners' baseball club opened the season Sunday afternoon at Magnolia Park with an 11-4 decision over the Sinclair Oilers from Palestine, a member of the Anderson county league.

Lefty Tinkle started the game for the local crew and toiled for five innings, and Warren, product of East Navarro county, went the last four, whiffing eight would-be hitters in the four innings.

Allen, local third-sacker, led the hitting parade with three hits, scoring twice and batting in five runs as his contribution to the Terrell brothers of the Sinclair contingent. Allen's single in the first inning sent two runners home to put the local club ahead. His triple in the third scored another to break the tie gained by the visitors and his single in the sixth with two runners aboard went by the patrol of the center garden and he did not stop until he had scored.

Some Sensational Pdays.

Both clubs played sensational baseball at times and on other occasions did not perform so well, slowing the short time the players have practiced.

A. (Dizzy) Terrell started but a walk and two triples before anyone was retired in the third caused he and his brother, O. (Daffy) Terrell, left fielder, to change places.

The Refiners will meet the Western States Grocers from Dallas, one of the strongest semi-pro clubs of Dallas, here next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The attendance Sunday afternoon was disappointing.

NEGRO WAS FOUND FATALLY INJURED ON RAIL RIGHT-OF-WAY

George White, thirty-five year old negro, filling station worker, died at 8:30 Sunday morning in the P. and S. Hospital after being picked up earlier in the morning on the Southern Pacific Lines right-of-way, near the Southern Ice and Utilities. A southern Pacific passenger train passed through the city at 4:40 Sunday morning, and apparently caused the negro's fatal injuries.

Railroad officials reported a boy was walking along the track and heard the injured negro's calls for help. The negro said he had lain on the right-of-way "a long time," but no other details of how the accident happened were available.

broad declaration of Poland's desire for peace or enter into detailed proposals over the tea table for meeting the Memel and Pomorze minorities problems.

Competent quarters explained that these matters are secondary to the Polish wish for peace, "as a purely commercial benefit allowing us to send soldiers home, to build up the country's resources."

They conceded, however, that Poland is willing to co-operate in allaying thes einternational irritations lest they become forerunners of war.

LONG-COUGHLIN

Bouncing up and down in his chair before the microphone, the senator asserted that after the bank holiday, some good banks were closed and others were opened. "Low down politics," he said, were used in opening the banks."

Combining an appeal for his share-the-wealth program with an attack on new deal measures, he said:

"They have posted laws and rules, books and codes over us to make our misery worse; they have surrounded us with inspectors, clerks regulators and bureaucrats to brutalize us in our distress; they outbeat the sick while they go through the death rattle.

Help us! Help us! I ask you."

Mrs. W. T. McFadden was seriously ill during the week-end with an attack of influenza, but was reported somewhat improved this morning.

POPE PIUS

rigid throughout the solemn address.

His gestures, they said, were infrequent, and his delivery was marked by what they described as "terrible calm." They said his eyes, still bright despite the pope's 78 years, seemed to flash as he spoke.

His Holiness pleaded for the destruction of those who want war and proclaimed three days of public prayer at Lourdes, France, so that "God might illuminate the minds of those who have in their hands the government and the fate of peoples in the present and anxiety of a time which leads to fear for a still sadder future."

The Pope told the Cardinals that war "would be so enormous a crime, so foolish a manifestation of fury, we believe it absolutely impossible."

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Fresh information on President Roosevelt's attitude led house leaders to decide tentatively today to send the $4,880,000,000 relief bill back to conference with the senate.

The leaders steered clear of a final commitment as to what would be done pending a conference later in the day, however.

It was reported authoritatively that the chief executive had agreed with Secretary Ickes that congress should eliminate the language in the bill requiring that one-third of the $900,000,000 allocated to federal projects should be spent for "direct work."

It was added, by a leader who declined to let his name be used, that the presidnt had suggested the method of deleting the objectionable language should be left up to congressional leaders.

These leaders previously had suggested that the bill be passed with the direce work requirement in it, and an amendatory resolution adopted later. But receipt of new word as to the president's opposition to the clause made them change their minds to seek quicker settlement.

The new plan meant that every effort would be made to knock out of the bill, now, the limitation on the $900,000,000 Fornon-Federal projects.

Leaders alos said it promised a delay of two or three days to weeks while the bill was worked over again in conference.

"We cannot in fact persuade ourselves that those who should have at heart the prosperity and well-being of peoples should be willing to push to suicide, to ruin and to extermination not only their own nation but a great part of humanity."

If, however, there is someone who wishes to commit "this nefarious crime," then, the Holy Father said, he could do nothing else than pray to God to "destroy those peoples who desire war."

At this moment, he continued, the "clamor of war is universally diffused and the cause of agitation to all and arouses in everyone the greatest fear."

It is for this reason, he said, he wished to speak today through his apostolic office.

Enormous Crime.

The pontiff said the "enormous crime," which he regarded with such abhorrence, would result if "peoples once more take up arms oen against the other an dif once more the blood of brothers is spilled and if destruction and ruin are spread on the earth and in the sea and the sky."

After his presentation of the canonization of the Blessed Thomas More and Bishop John Fisher for approval of the cardinals the pope said that despite this reason for profound joy "Wherever we turn our eyes to that frightful crisis—economic, political and especially moral—in which humanity is caught, when we consider the consequences still more tragic that one fears for the future, there is indeed reason to be deeply said."

New War Clouds.

"However, it is true that while damage from the last European was has not yet been repaired," he continued, "here again the horizon is darkened with thick clouds, pierced by sinister rays—something which keeps mind in suspense and trembling.

"The words of Jesus Christ are recalled to our minds, 'You shall hear of wars and sedition.' x x x

"There will be 'x x x pestilences and famine and terror from heaven; and there shall be great signs; x x x men withering away from fear and expectation of what shall come upon the whole world.'

"We are not surprised, therefore," Pope Pius said, "if people in so much consternation and so much confusion of nations turn their eyes from every side to the common father in order to ask for light, relief and hope."

It was for this reason, said His Holiness, that he wished to speak today.

The pope urged, therefore "that the anxiety of the mind repose in this virtue and change into ardent prayer to the Father of infinite mercies in order that better times might finally come to human kind."

Twenty cardinals, gathered in the first secret consistory called in 18 months, raised their hats to approve the canonization of Sir Thomas More and Bishop Fisher, who lost their heads for opposing the marriage of Henry VIII to Anne Boleyn.

TOKYO, April 1.—(AP)—A high government spokesman today gave assurance that Japan is ready to discuss with the Soviet government the question of demilitarization of the Far Eastern frontiers.

At the same time the spokesman, Eiji Amau, asserted the Far Eastern empire "cannot think of any alliance with Germany."

Foreign diplomatic observers expressed the opinion such demilitarization would indirectly bolster the anti-German alignment of European powers.

It was pointed out the arrangement would afford the Soviet a security in the Orient which would enable her to transfer a portion of her Siberian garrisons westward.

Amau, however, emphasized that Japan's primary interest is the maintenance of "peace in Eastern Asia, which we will protect at any cost."

EFFORT BEING MADE GET RID OF RELIEF BILL AMENDMENTS

MEASURE EXPECTED TO BE SENT TO CONFERENCE BY HOUSE ON MONDAY

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Caught in a last-minute controversy over the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill, house leaders met today to begin an effort to get rid of amendments which they said are opposed by President Roosevelt.

The administtration strategists, who have been trying for well over two months to enact the measure in a form acceptable to the White House, were called to confer at 11 a. m.

Previously they had reached a tentative decision to send the bill back to the congressional conference commitete which wrote one of the disputed amendments and approved the other.

Speaker Byrns said the president is opposed to the requirement that one-third of $900,000,000 in loans and grants for state and community work projects be spent directly for wages, and also to an amendment, originating in the senate, which would require senate confirmation of New York relief officials. The wage provisions has been protested strongly by Secretary Ickes, the public works administrator, who said it would block many types of projects.

It was acknowledged that sending the bill back to the conference committee for elimination or rewriting of the controversial sections would delay the final roll call from two or three days to a week or more.

GRAND JURY

outside help, intimating that the criminal district attorney, sheriff's department and other law enforcement agencies in Navarro county were doing their duty.

Jury Is Charged.

The probers were charged that felonies included murder, robbery, perjury, forgery, arson, theft over $50, embezzlement, swindling, violation of the prohibition laws, operating "bawdy houses," gambling houses, etc.

The judge said, referring to "bawdy houses," that he did not mean only the houses on highway 75, but hotels and other places where prostitution was found.

Turning to his remarks relative to drunken driving on the highways, Judge Callicutt said that each Monday morning edition of newspapers was filled with accounts of accidents, and that he expected much of it was caused by drunken drivers. He said railroads would not allow drunken engineers to operate trains on tracks, and remarked that it was worse on the highways where no tracks were provided.

Should Be Punished.

He said a driver who ran over a person while driving in an intoxicated condition ought to be sent to the penitentiary for murder.

The probers were told they were investigators and were asked not to return indictments on "flimsy" testimony. He warned them of their oaths of secrecy and said that the commissioners' court had asked that expenses of the district court be curtailed where possible, but that where it was necessary, expense should not be spared for the prompt and efficient conduct of the operations of the courts.

Carroll Is Foreman.

J. D. Carroll of Corsicana was appointed foreman of the grand jury. The grand jury elected W. T. Hill of Corsicana as secretary and B. O. Hemphill of Kerens as assistant secretary. Other members of the grand jury are John W. Stewart, former sheriff of Navarro county, Corsicana; Erwin Patrick, Corsicana; J. B. Griffin, Corsicana; J. C. Tyner, Currie; J. W. Speed, Kerens; W. B. Payne, Pursley; T. B. Blount, Rice; W. E. Butler, Purdon, and W. L. Bonnett, Frost.

W. J. Carroll of Kerens was appointed door bailiff and J. M. Carr and Pink Hayes, both of Corsicana, were appointed riding bailiffs.

After organization was perfected Monday morning, the grand jury recessed until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

TEXAS WEATHER

Sunday.

Property damages were reported in Houston, Richmond, Sugarland, Huntsville, Conroe and other small towns in the vicinity.

Two oil derricks, an interurban station and trees were blown down near Dickinson in the Galveston section. Practically all of the coastal region got rain, which extended to Corpus Christi.

While the storm was raging in South Texas Sunday, a dust storm formed over the western portion of the state.

Amarillo had a haze of fine dust that blew in from the Southwest.

A dusty haze, riding a low breeze, covered the South Plains. It was the eighth consecutive week-end for a dust or sand storm in the Lubbock region.

Record Holding Sunday School Class Honored

With impressive and appropriate ceremonies, members of the ladies class at the First Presbyterian church, record holders for 1933 and 1934, were honored at the Sunday school hour Sunday and additional tribute was paid them at the morning worship period.

The class has an average age of 76 and made an attendance record of 84.4 per cent in spite of the illness of one of the members for almost a year. A solo by Mrs. Boyce Martin, a reading by Miss Elizabeth Ann Mitchell, and the presenttion of a recent photograph of the class to each of itis members and the teacher with appropriate comments on the service of the members made up the program for a special assembly of the entire school Sunday morning.

CORSICANA MOTOR COMPANY WILL SELL 3 POPULAR CARS

The "Corsicana Motor Company" sales agency of Hudson, Terraplane and Willis automobiles opened for business today in the building owned by Tom Hill at the corner North Beaton street and West Second avenue, by Clayton Brown. Mr. Hill, a well-known automobile dealer here for a number of years, will be connected with Mr. Brown as a salesman.

Mr. Brown formerly operated the Whippet-Knight automobile agency here, and has a wide circle of acquaintances. For several years he has had an automobile agency in Ennis, and is still doing business there.

A complete line of new Hudson, Terraplane and Willis automobiles will be carried here by Mr. Brown, and on display in the "Corsicana Motor Company" showrooms.

Quarter Million Called To Colors In Italy Monday

ROME, April 1.—(AP)—Italy's military class of 1914—250,000 strong—today was called to the colors as the 20-year-olds began the compulsory military training required of all Italian males.

With the retention under arms of the class of 1913, which normally would have been mustered out when the new class came in, and with the calling to the colors of the class of 1911, Italy now has an army of more than 600,000 men mobilized.

Official war department estimates declare that the kingdom could put an army of 7,938,000 trained men between the ages of 21 and 54 into the field.

GERMAN YOUTH

were surrounded by completely unarmed neighbors, for the simple reason that the tendency of this form of education is peaceful and humane. We have no other desire except to make youth healthy and happy. To do so, however, we must also train their bodies.

"Our soldierly spirit has nothing in common with militarism. By a soldierly attitude we mean training the young generation to realize the great human ideals of discipline, fidelity and comradeship. Every youth leader has plenty of opportunities to test his qualities within the large Hitler youth movement. Military honors don't tempt him, for he finds full satisfaction in the exemplary fulfillment of the duties assigned to him, in other words in deeds of peace such as are offered by our great athletic meetings, our encampments and our vocational contests.

Would Be Mad To Desire War.

"German youth would be mad to desire war. Our youth has experienced the terrible results of war much too iftensely, and has been compelled to think constantly of the results of war, for it ever to want, from an unwarranted craving for military honors, to destroy the structure of peaceful labor that we all, from leader to the smallest youngster, are trying to erect in Germany.

"It is true that no youth organization in the world so trains its young people in obedience as the Hitler youth movement. Orders by any official are carried out immediately and unquestionably. The Hitler youth is, however, not only the most obedient youth in the world—it is also the most independent. Even the 12-year old leader of a small sub-division of but a few boys has an area of responsibility within which he must not only carry out the orders from the top, but also give evidence of his own initiative and energy at making decisions. For the little youthful leader and his subordinates his decisions are as important in their way and as efefctive as the decrees of a minister are in the life of the state."

FLIERS KILLED

L. W. Abbott, 35, and Claude Morin, 28, were killed when Abbott's monoplane plummeted near an airport at Elmhurst, a few miles west of Chicago. With Abbott at the controls, the ship crumpled 25 feet from a radio transmitting tower.

Experimenting with a glider wing, Floyd Davis, 22, parachute jumped, hurtled 600 feet to death near Flint, Mich., when one of his two parachutes fouled in the glider wing attached to his back. Davis had hoped to use the wing, a four foot span of fabric, to guide his flight to earth.

Pilot and Reporter Killed in Crash

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 1.—(AP)—Department of commerce investigation of the mid-air plane collision which took the lives of two men and left another seriously injured at the end of an air show, today revealed there were no structural defects in the planes.

M. F. Clark of Houston, department of commerce official, said he would report the accident was caused by the collision of two planes. He released the planes for salvaging.

Jack Barstow, former associate of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in glider experiments and former holder of the national glider endurance record, and Jack Cowgill, reporter of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, were killed.

Eddie Johnson, manager of the airport and pilot of the other plane that figured in the collision, remained in serious condition today.

Barstow, son of E. O. Barstow of Midland, Mich., cam here a month ago. His body will be sent to Michigan for burial. His widow and two children survive.

The ships collided at a low altitude, broke apart an crashed to the ground, barely missing hundrends of spectators who had watched an afternoon of stunt flying.

Barstow, whose father lives in Midland, Mich., was widely known in glider flying and he worked on experiments in that field of aviation with Col. Lindbergh at San Diego, Calif., in 1930.

He formerly held the glider endurance record of 14 hours and 41 minutes and was associated with a glider club in San Diego named in his honor.

Department of commerce officials planned to investigate the spectacular collision, probably arriving here today.

Herbert Beker, assistant manager at the airport, said the planes came together as Barstow, flying a faster plane, came into a turn higher than the ship flown by Johnson.

Hooked Wings .

He said he did not know which ship skidded on the turn but that they locked wings for a moment, damaging both planes so that pilots appeared to be unable to control them.

Beker said that if the planes were racing he did not know it.

Funeral services for the victims were pending. Barstow was married and the father of two children. Cowgill was a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cowgill of San Benito. His body was sent there last night.

Cowgill was a reporter on the Harlingen (Texas) Valley Morning Star before coming to the Caller-Times here last November. He attended the University of Texas and the University of Colorado and was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Johnson suffered a broken shoulder and other injuries, and his plane was badly damaged. Barstow's plane was demolished.

Student Pilot Killed.

BROWNWOOD, Texas, April 1.—(AP)—Cecil Cook, 20, of De Leon, student pilot, was dead today, the victim of a plane crash two miles south of here yesterday.

The plane, falling from low altitude, burst into flames when it hit the ground. Witnesses said Cook apparently was alive when the ship hit the earth but that they could not release him because of the heat.

Cook's widow survives.

BEAUVAIS, France, April 1.—(AP)—Robert Bajac, 36, one of France's youngest war aviators and chief pilot of the French European commercial service, was killed today in a plane crash.

BAR NEGROES

not deprived of any constitutional right.

Justice Roberts, delivering the opinion, said the state convention was recognized by the state as having the right to arrange for elections.

"We hold the party was a voluntary association and was competent to decide its membership," he asserted.

No dissent was announced.

AUSTIN, April 1.—(AP)—Decision of the United States supreme court today that the Texas democratic party was empowered to bar negroes from its primary elections brought to an end long litigation through state and federal courts.

For years the democrats sought means to exclude negroes from "the white man's primary." The United States supreme court ruled a few years ago that the legislature could not, by statutory enactment, refuse negroes the right to participate in democraic primaries.

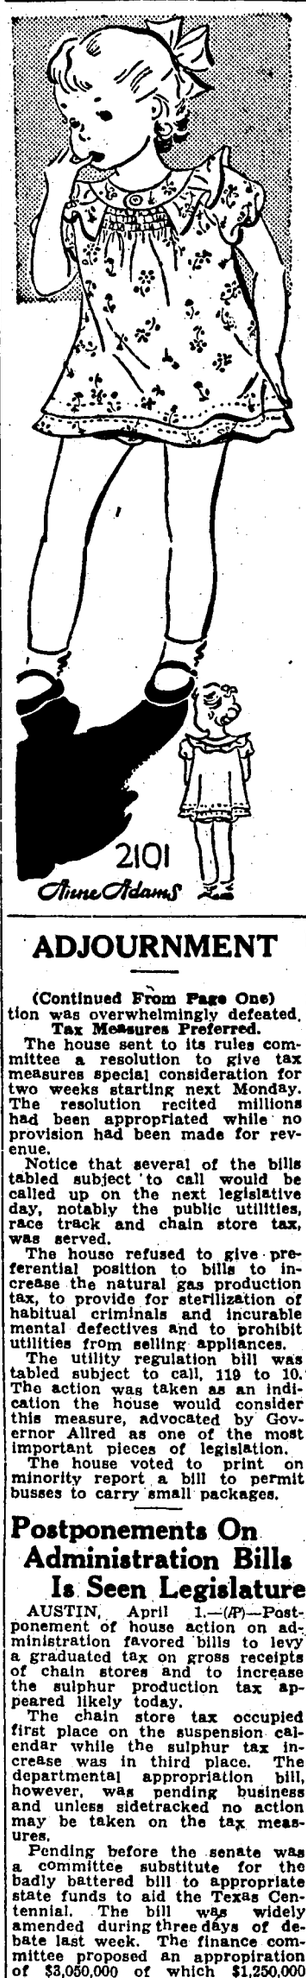

To circumvent the decision, the party at its convention in Houston in 1930 adopted a resolution opening the democratic primaries only to persons of white descent. Since then negroes had been refused the right to vote in primaries in most counties, although they were allowed in some instances.

State courts upheld the authority of the party to pass on the qualifications of its members and interested negroes appealed to the federal courts. The decision in effect, barred negroes from participating in elections for state officials since the democratic party is predominant and its nominees, with only minor exceptions, are elected at the general elections.

The supreme court's action sustained a ruling of Gevernor James V. Allred, given during the last primary when he was attorney general, that the party's action in barring negroes by resolution was effective and did not conflict with the supreme court's previuos decision.

tion was overwhelmingly defeated.

Tax Measures Preferred.

The house sent to its rules committee a resolution to give tax measures special consideration for two weeks starting next Monday. The resolution recited millions had been appropriated while no provision had been made for revenue.

Notice that several of the bills tabled subject to call would be called up on the next legislative day, notably the public utilities, race track and chain store tax, was served.

The house refused to give preferential position to bills to increase the natural gas production tax, to provide for sterilization of habitual criminals and incurable mental defectives and to prohibit utilities from selling appliances.

The utility regulation bill was tabled subject to call, 119 to 10. The action was taken as an indication the house would consider this measure, advocated by Governor Allred as one of the most important pieces of legislation.

The house voted to print on minority report a bill to permit busses to carry small packages.

Postponements On Administration Bills Is Seen Legislature

AUSTIN, April 1.—(AP)—Postponement of house action on administration favored bills to levy a graduated tax on gross receipts of chain stores and to increase the sulphur production tax appeared likely today.

The chain store tax occupied first place on the suspension calendar while the sulphur tax increase was in third place. The departmental appropriation bill, however, was pending business and unless sidetracked no action may be taken on the tax measures.

Pending before the senate was a committee substitute for the badly battered bill to appropriate state funds to aid the Texas Centennial. The bill was widely amended during three days of debate last week. The finance committee proposed an appropriation of $3,050,000 of which $1,250,000 would be allocated to Dallas, central Centennial site; $750,000 for administration and advertising, $250,000 to equip a memorial museum at the University of Texas, $50,000 for Texas histories and biographies and $750,000 for observances at historic places.

It was identical with a bill passed by the house except for the historical and biographical item.

Oil and gas conservationists indicated speedy action would be sought in the senate on a group of bills, passed last week by the house, to minimize the possibility of federal control. The bills would re-enact the law permitting proration of oil production to market demand and otherwise strengthen the state's conservation power, to ratify a compact entered into by oil producing states and to end the gigantic wastage of gas in the Panhandle.

The bills would be used to support the argument to be made shortly before a congressional committee by Governor Allred and Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commission chairman, that Texas can handle its own resources without aid from the federal government.

Temporary District Court.

AUSTIN, April 1.—(AP)—The senate today permitted introduction by Senator Clay Cotten of Palestine of a bill to establish a temporary third district court for Anderson, Henderson and Houston counties.

Cotten said it was necessary to relieve crowded dockets caused by oil litigation. Each county has one or more fields. The court would expire January 1, 1937.

Senator Jim Neal of Mirando City also obtained leave to introduce a bill authorizing navigation districts to lease lands for oil development.

Irregularities Charged.

AUSTIN, April 1.—(AP)—Representative Bob Calvert of Hillsboro, member of a committee investigating state departments, told the house today the committee had information of irregularities in the distribution of taxes on horse racing appropriated to buy jacks and stallions for the improvement of Texas stock.

At his request for time in which to make further investigations, a vote on a bill authorizing use of the money from the jack and stallion fund as fast as it became available was postponed until next Monday by a vote of 102 to 15. Under the present law, the money is not available until December o feach year.

Increase Spring Wheat Plantings To Be Permitted

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—The AAA declared officially today that spring wheat farmers may increase their acreage up to 165 per cent of the average acreage planted to wheat during the 1928 to 1932 period.

The announcement changed the original declaration of Secretary Wallas on March 20 which held that producers would not be required to make the ten per cent reduction which had been decreed last fall.

Officials of the wheat section subsequently said that farmers would be allowed to plant any amount of acreage this year under the wheat contract, but would be required to agree to reduce acreage for a corresponding amount in 1936 if called upon.

received from the vacationing chief executive.

His fishing trip came in for criticism from the Republicans, Representative Snell of New York, the G. O. P. floor leader, remarking that the president must be more interested in fishing on the "palatial yacht" than in getting the bill through.

In the senate, Glass disagreed with Robinson that the senate conferees had exceeded their authority in writing in the direct labor requirement, which affects $900,000,000 of the funds appropriated.

He also maintained manufacture and transportation of materials could be used in calculating the direct labor estimate, a contention Robinson disagreed with unless the word "indirect" were included.

"This is a bill for work relief and employment of persons so they can be taken off relief rolls," the Virginian added, "and the conferees came to the conclusion this was a very reasonable provision."

"The effect of the limitation," Robinson replied, "is to undo what the senate has said shall be done."

Aged Woman Died Monday Afternoon

Mrs. Margaret A. Walters, age 79 years, died at her home on the Drane road Monday afternoon. Funeral services have not been announced.

Funeral arrangements will be handled by Corley Funeral Home.

TEXAS B... ADMITS SE... FROM ANNE...

ANOTHER ROMANCE OF R... GIRLS APPARENTLY GOES O... MATRIMONIAL ROCKS

SAN ANTONIO, April 1.—(AP)—Frank Meador, actor son of a Texas rancher and now employed in a local bank, admitted today he had been separated from his wife, Anne Gould Meador, the Gould railroad fortune heiress, for a month.

Meador, questioned at the Gross National bank, where he is employed, said his heiress-bride is now in Florida.

"It's old stuff," was his comment on the separation. "We've been separated for a month."

Except to verify the report that they had separated, Meador declined to comment.

The young banker, native of San Saba, Texas, refused to say whether the breach was caused by his refusal to quit work in accordance with his wife's wishes.

Mrs. Meador is said to have fallen in love with the young Texan when she saw him play a minor role on the New York stage. They eloped and came to San Antonio last Christmas.

Meador went to work at the bank and the pair lived in a modest home, refusing interviews and seeking quiet.

Mrs. Meador had started for New York when she changed her mind and went to Florida.

CONSTRUCTION NEW ELECTRIC PLANTS IS BEING ADVOCATED

AT LEAST THREE HUNDRED MILLIONS SHOULD BE SPENT IS RECOMMENDED

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Early construction of new electric generating plants costing at least $300,000,000 was advocated by the power commission in a survey published today. It said the plants were needed to prevent a "critical" power shortage.

Concluding a study made at the direction of President Roosevelt, the commission expressed no preference between private and public power developments. But it declared new plants and transmission lines should be planned carefully under federal supervision.

"The critical shortage of existing generating capacity most seriously affects the great industrial district of the east and middle west," the commission reported.

"It would, therefore, be disastrous in case the United States should become involved in war."

The commission reported the use of electricity for domestic purposes and in some branches of industry had grown so during the depression that the demand for power, in time of normal industrial activity, will require the output of 50 large generating stations in addition to the supply that existed in 1929.

"The only regions in which substantial surpluses of capacity now exist to meet normal demand are Florida, parts of Michigan and Illinois, an erea along the lower Mississippi, parts of Texas, and North Dakota, Idaho, Utah, New Mexico, Minnesota, Montana, Washington and Oregon," it was reported.

PAY RESTORED

railroad and chairman of the managers committee has announced that shortly after May 1 the managers will notify the railroad brotherhoods of intention to seek the cut.

Thus the wage situation will be thrown back into the controversial stage it was in a year ago when, after a three-week deadlock which even President Roosevelt could not budge, the brotherhood chiefs and managers agreed on a gradual restoration of a 10 per cent deduction negotiated in 1932. The entire cut was restored today, the men getting one-fourth back last July 1 and one-fourth January 1.

The new wage negotiations, however, probably will differ from the old. The old agreement did not change the basic wage. It merely was a deduction from pay checks. The new proposal will be for a cut in basic wages.

CORSICANA, TEX., APR. 2, 1935

CIVIL SERVICE EFFICIENCY

Apropos of his dispute with federal patronage authorities, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau recently said he really will not care if appointments never are made to fill the vacant posts of collector of customs and collector of internal revenue in Detroit.

"The offices are being handled in excellent shape by the acting collectors," said Morgenthau, "perhaps better than if appointments were made. I am perfectly satisfied with the way things stand."

This is testimony that should interest taxpayers. The assistant collectors are civil service employes, capable because experienced and because chosen in the first place for ability. If they are able in Detroit to run their offices satisfactorily, "perhaps better" than though politically-appointed superiors were placed over them, the same presumably would be true elsewhere. It has been suspected for a long while in the postoffice department that postoffices would run just as well, if left in charge of the assistant postmaster, also civil service employes.

Then why have collectors of customs and internal revenue and postmasters? Why not let the civil service men run these departments and cease burdening taxpayers to pay needless salaries?

So far as we know, the only answer is that the patronage authorities need the jobs. They need them to "take care of" party workers and to perpetuate a political machine, which, by virtue of the very nature of the men thus drawn into it, is not itself in the public interest.

Of course, all this may be to illustrate very clearly an underlying advantage that civil service has over the political spoils system. The spoils system always tends to retain, and increase the number of, useless jobs in government service, because the success of a political machine depends so much on the number of politicians it can "take care of." Civil service removes that incentive to waste.

TOWNSEND CLUB DISCORD

New England's traditional spirit of independence again manifests itself in the revolt of the New England Federation of Townsend Clubs against the parent organiation in California. The dissatisfaction, however, is not with Dr. Townsend or with the famous spend-as-you-get old age pension plan.

The seceding New Englanders bestow on Dr. Townsend the faint praise that he is a "nice old doctor without any knowledge of business management, but who can not be blind to the fact that the national organization has become a racket."

To this Charles M. Hawks, of the California group, replies that J. Wilfred Corr, leader of the New England division, is "working a racket of his own."

From which it may be guessed that whatever may be the fate of the Townsend plan, some of its promoters may not have been content to wait till old age overtakes them before participating in the benefits accruing from a nation-wide organization to get the famous scheme enacted into law.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest.)

A little more of giving and little less of taking;
A little more of sensing what our neighbors have to bear;
A little more of piety for the ones to sorrow waking
And we'd have more of laughter and less of bleak despair.

A little more of friendship and a little less of sneering;
A little more of trusting and a little less of doubt;
A little more of cheeering and a little less of jeering
And we'd have more contentment and much less to fret about.

A little more of sharing and a little less of grasping;
A little more of loving and a little less of hat;
A little less of bickering and voices harshly rasping
And we should all be stronger when the need for strength is great.

A little more of charity and less of selfish dealing;
A little more of willingness another's need to see;
A little more of wisdom, both of knowing and of feeling
And life would be the joyous thing it really ought to be.

OBSCURE HEROES

The monuments which nearly all nations that took part in the World war have erected to their "unknown heroes" symbolizes the sense of national obligation and gratitude to those whose sacrifices cannot be acknowledged in any other way. Patheticaly futile as to those thus honored, these expressions of a public regret which comes too late are worth while, and sugggestive in other spheres than that of armed conflict.

Peace also has its multitude of unknown heroes and heroines quite as noble, and sometimes nobler than those of war. Many of them, most of them, perhaps pass away without public recognition, and, indeed, without feeling that they have in any way deserved it. But it is a comfort to know that such people are recognized by those around them at their true worth, and that when they pass away generous praise makes them fully known at least in the communities they have served.

The noblest deed doesn't always receive the greatest acclaim. The greatest sacrifice may go without reward. Many a true hero has gone undiscovered and unsung, and, by the same token, many a renegate has been made the undeserving object of the hero worship. But it is a source of some satisfection that every man's true worth is known to his intimate associates, who are not to be censured if they are lacking in Boswellian traits.

UP TO HITLER.

Germany has been arming, contrary to her pledges at Versailles. She has done it mostly in secret. Now, with her armament brought to fighting strength, she throws off the mask and announces military conscription. She will be once more a nation in arms.

So it begins to look like another European war, which might become another World War. The other European powers rise to meet the threat and tighten their lines.

Germany blames the allies, insisting that they broke the Versailles treaty by not disarming. The allies reply that they were forced to safeguard themselves. As Americans see it, both sides have been at fault, and for the same reason—fear.

But one fact stands out clearly in the confusion. It is this. "Germany" today is Hitler, and the situation in Europe is mainly of Hitler's making.

Germany was getting on rather well with the intelligent diplomacy of Stresemann and his group, winning friends among neutrals and disarming old enemies by a policy of frankness and conciliation. The allies were rapidly softening the peace terms, reducing reparations, withdrawing their restraint, taking Germany again into the family of nations, relaxing their own defense plans.

Then came Hitler, the Austrian bull in the European china shop, preaching hate and fury. So well has he done his work, within and without Germany, that he has opened old wounds, revived the old enmities, and brought almost the same forces into league against the Fatherland that were leagued 20 years ago.

The die of this new war is not yet cast. Hitler still has a choice. He can still save Europe, Germany and himself—if he will.

"KEEP YOUR SHIRT ON, SON—WE'RE ALRIGHT AS LONG AS WE STAY HERE." —By Clive Weed

WHEN FARMS BLOW AWAY

Those great dust storms, on the western rim of the plains that rise from the Mississippi to the Rockies, have come to be a national peril. Hundreds of millions of acres of semi-arid land threatens to become altogether arid. Top soil that took thousands of years to form is lifted and scattered all the way to the Atlantic. It fertilizes the land where it falls, though incidentally doing more damage than it is worth. It robs vast areas of fertility. A few more years of such winds and drouth as there have been lately would make a new strip of desert reaching from North Dakota to the Rio Grande.

This is what happens when the prairie sod is plowed up, and the silt is left with no adequate cover or binder, and there comes a series of dry years and high winds.

A series of rainy years, starting immediately, would still save most of the damaged region. Man can help with a general planting of tough grasses and more intelligent cropping. The government can help with its tree belt program, to break the winds and conserve moisture. The outer universe may do its part; a new sun spot cycle is starting, and sun spots seem to have something to do with rainfall.

At best, though, there will remain large areas comprising many thousand farms and ranches, already ruined — marginal land become submarginal.

Fortunately the government is already engaged in a program to move farmers from hopelessly unproductive districts to more promising ones, and can save much suffering by rapid expansion of such work. Distressed farmers will probably welcome such help from now on. Conservation begins to look more logical and necessary as Nature herself emphasizes the arguments of human conservationists. We may find ourselves in a new conservation movement far more extensive than the original one of 30 years ago.

As a result of Stalin's urging, Russia in a year reports a 60 per cent increase in the consumption of soap, of the harder type.

We taxpayers will get a bonus yet, if we hang together.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Tupelo.

The Tupelo Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. J. A. Rutherford Wednesday afternoon, March 27. The house was called to order by the president, Mrs. L. E. Lockhart, and the meeting was turned over to Miss Ruth McNabb, our county agent.

Miss McNabb gave some very interested demonstrations on cutting different kinds of sleeves from our foundation pattern.

Mrs. Jennie Lee Stough of Whites Chapel, Mrs. Robert Rutherford of Corsicana and Mrs. Pearl Woods of Hester were visitors of the meeting.

The hostess served a dtlicious course of pimiento and cheese sandwiches and Dr. Pepper soda water.

ACTION ON RELIEF BILL IS DELAYED UNTIL NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP)—Vigorous objections from administration officials to the final form of the $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill today were reported to have delayed further congressional action on the measure until next week in the hope that it can be modified.

The leader who made this disclosure declined to go into detail, and asked that newspapermen refrain from using his name. But as he talked Secretary Wallace was in a conference with chairman Buchanan of the house appropriations committee.

Wallace had objected to the George amendment, under which the money appropriated in the big bill could be used for administration of the farm adjustment act.

Senator George (D-Ga) made a bitter assaults in the sneate yesterday upon Wallace for stating his opposition publicly. In reply Wallace sent a letter to Bpuchan explaining his position, but Buchan had not made the letter public. public.

The understanding was that house leaders would attempt to reopen the conference in the hope of eliminating the provisions which were obnoxious to administration officials.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP)—Racing against time so that depleted relief coffers may be filled, administration leaders sought today to hurry to President Roosevelt the $4,880,000,000 work and relief bill on which conferees from senate and house reached complete agreement last night.

Striking out the Thomas silver inflation amendment and making other changes, the conference ended its task after a wearying, all-day session.

With silverites apparently abandoning any idea of a filibuster, leaders saw a possibility the bill might be hurried to enactment this week. Both houses must now act on the bill as approved by conferees.

Observers saw a possibility that the bill—hugest appropriation measure in American history—might be taken to President Roosevelt by airplane so he could sign it on the yacht Nourmahal in southern waters.

Though the amendment of Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) to have the treasury issue silver against bullion at a $1.29 an ounce value was stricken out, members of the silver bloc said they would not seek to delay the measure. Thomas declared he would offer his plan later.

Observers watched to see what Senator Long (D-La.) who fought the administration on the bill, would do.

One change made in conference would leave President Roosevelt free to name Relief Administrator Hopkins, Secretary Ickes, Under-secretary of Agriculture Tugwell or others high in the administration to posts in the new setup without senate confirmation.

Currie High School Track In Excellent Condition For Meet

The Currie high school track including the 220-yard straightaway, which will be the scene of the Currie Invitation track meet Saturday, March 30, was reported by Coach C. O. Slaughter today to be in excellent condition. A large number of entries have been received for the meet, and it is expected that this year's running will be the biggest in the history of the event.

Reports from Currie today indicated that considerable enthusiasm is being manifested over the wide variety of events that will be on the menu for Saturday.

Poultry and Eggs Shipments in Texas Continue Decrease

AUSTIN, Texas, March 29.—(Spl.)—The downward trend in poultry and egg shipments from Texas to interstate points which has been apparent for the past three years continued during February, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. A total of only 110 cars were shipped from the state last month, against 169 cars a year ago. Poultry shipments amounted to 79 cars compared with 100 during February last year; and egg shipments were 31 and 69 cars respectively for the comparable periods.

Lee Watts of the Frost community was in Corsicana Friday morning.

NAVARRO COUNTY YOUTHS MAKE GOOD RECORDS AT TRINITY

WAXAHACHIE, March 30.—(Spl.)—Two Navarro county youths have been elected officers of the Trinity University student body for the 1935-36 school session and they will be installed in the near future. They are Billy Everheart of Kerens, vice president, and George Collins, of Kerens, editor of The Trinitonian, student weekly.

Students from Navarro county have been outstnding at Trinity University this year. Ray Crawford of Kerens is president of the freshman class, Bill Everheart is president of the sophomore class and Raymond Miller of Powell, a former president of the student body, is president of the senior class. Leonard Thompson of Kerens was chosen the best freshman boy on the campus.

Jack Anderson of Kerens is president of the Blue Sky Fraternity, an honor society for outstanding leaders in the junior and senior classes.

In debate, Everheart and Collins have made impressive records.

Navarro county youths were prominent on both the football and basketball teams and four of the six men on the varsity tennis squad are from Navarro county.

The scholastic record of the students from Navarro county also is high at Trinity.

First rental payment checks on the last accepted 1934-35 contracts were received by local cotton campaign officials Saturday morning, the two checks amounting to $72.36. Two other contracts which were not completed until a few weeks ago are still pending before Washington officials.

Saturday's receipts brought the grand totals to 5506 vouchers and money total to $274,561.50.

ELEEMOSYNARY BILL PASSED AND HOUSE STARTS NEW DEBATE

AUSTIN, March 29.—(AP)—A bill to appropriate $10,403,044 for support of state eleemosynary institutions was passed finally today by the Texas house and debate started immediately on a bill to appropriate $11,545,244 for general departmental maintenance during the next biennium.

Only slight changes were made in the eleemosynary bill as reported from committee. The house backtracked and replaced items for social service workers and traveling expenses for the institutions. As finally passed the only reductions were in the maintenance allowance of superintendents, lowered from $500 to $300 annually, and an increase from $35 to $40 per month in salaries of farm hands.

The house voted to increase the salary of the adjutant geniral from $2,500 to $2,700 but turned down a request to increase the assistant adjutant general from $2,000 to $2,600. Salary of the finance officers were trimmed from $1,500 to $1,300, the personnel officer from $1,800 to $1,500.

An increase of $500 in the appropriations for the Texas Rangers to buy new long handled axes for use in gambling and liquor raids was offered but withdrawn. The rangers have been active in recent weeks in a drive against gambling and liquor in which much gambling paraphernalia has been smashed.

The house refused to concur ii senate amendments to a bill to appropriate $7,500 for the Hooks independent school district and ordered the bill to conference. The senate added appropriations for five schools and increased the total to $26,500.

The house appropriations committee gave presidents of the state institutions of higher learning blanket authority to revise their budgets to eliminate inequalities in salaries in the lower brackets. The action followed refusal of the house to accept a lump sum appropriations. Salary adjustments would be made from state general funds and would not be supplemented from local funds. The committee voted, however, to permit institutions to employ additional teachers from local funds to be paid salaries set in the appropriation bill for similar work.

Presidents were requested to have their budgets submitted by next Wednesday.

The senate passed, 21 to 5, the ninth bill of a group urged by the administration to conform state laws to national housing act regulations. The bill would permit building and loan associations to make loans in conformity with the act. The other eight were passed early in the session.

TOP RANKING GOLFERS TO COMPETE IN 2ND ANNUAL 'MASTERS' TOURNEY

The cream of the country's golfing talent will compete in the second annual "masters" golf tournament at the course of the Augusta National Golf Club, Augusta, Ga., April 4 to 6, with Bobby Jones making his annual appearance in competition. Jones, who retired after his grand slam in winning both open and amateur titles in this country and England in 1930, helped design the course and now competes only in the Augusta tourney. Olin Dutra, 1934 open champion; Lawson Little, 1934 British and U. S. amateur champion; Charles Yates, 1934 National Intercollegiate champion, and a host of other high ranking golfers, including Tommy Armour, Harry Cooper and Paul Runyan will compete. Beach Styles for 1935 Even More Stream-Lined

Figures show that there will either be more drownings in 1935 or fewer men will go in swimming. At least the figures shown above modeling the 1935 bathing suit styles indicate that the poor male is going to have a hard time concentrating on swimming this season. One of the more dashing numbers calls for a little net judiciously arranged over a silken lining. Another novel design is created from cellophane. Native Tahitian prints in riotous colors will also be smart. Generally speaking, the 1935 beach styles will depend to a great extent on one's coat of tan.

APPLES IN THE DIET

A SAFE DIET ARTICLE

Miss Forbes tells how to use apples, in a diet which is either for health, beauty, or to overcome acid. She considers apples the safest and sanest form of fruit for anybody to eat.

E. K. Forbes

We all know that fruit and green fresh vegetables must be included in every well-balanced diet. Those of us who have tried reducing on a diet made up largely of orange and lemon and grapefruit juices have sometimes found that the amount of acid, whether good or bad in itself, was too much, at least in combination with other foods usually included in these reducing menus. Some women have turned entirely from fruit as a result, or eat it very rarely. Which is bad, too.

It seems to me that everyone who wants to keep on an alkaline or on a low calorie diet, who shares this feeling against citrus fruits, should take apples as the main fruit. Apples are not acid, and are proverbially the healthiest of foods. They are not fattening, they are easily digested. You can eat a very large quantity of them, if they are ripe.

A very good breakfast dish, for instance, consists of a raw apple cut into small peices and mixed in with some ready-cooked cereal, with sugar, a few raisins, some milk. A bowl of this and a cup of coffee are a very healthy affair—healthier, even if you have a coffee substitute, so as to avoid caffeine.

A marvellous salad for lunch consists of an apple chopped up into quite small pieces, raisins, chopped celery, scraped carrot, and white grapes, skinned, seeded, and cut into halves. Put this on a large lettuce leaf or a bed of shredded lettuce, and cover with mayonnaise. Make this yourself with egg yolk, olive oil, and lemon juice, not vinegar. This is easily digested, is nourishing enough to see you through the afternoon, especially if you have a cup of something hot to drink if it is a cold day, or a glass of buttermilk if it is a hot one. Even the raw carrot digests easily when it is scraped into thin slivers. It is a delicious dish, too.

Mrs. E. B.—I believe the shortening you mention is made of oils from vegetables, and it might do very well as a substitute for a cleansing cream. If you add a muscle oil to it, you are already spending quite a little money on the mixture, as that particular oil is expensive. You could make a cream, using very fine oils, and it would not cost as much as the mixtre you are planning. Most women use the muscle oil by itself and keep it for the portions of the skin that are inclined to form lines. I shall send you formulas for creams, and also one for your very dry scalp, if you wish them. Send a self-addressed envelope for the mailing.

Norris Belittles Third Party Talk For Next Election

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP)—Senator Norris, discussing the political situation from the vantage point of an "in-betweener" said today he thinks President Roosevelt will be renominated next year and that there will be no third party.

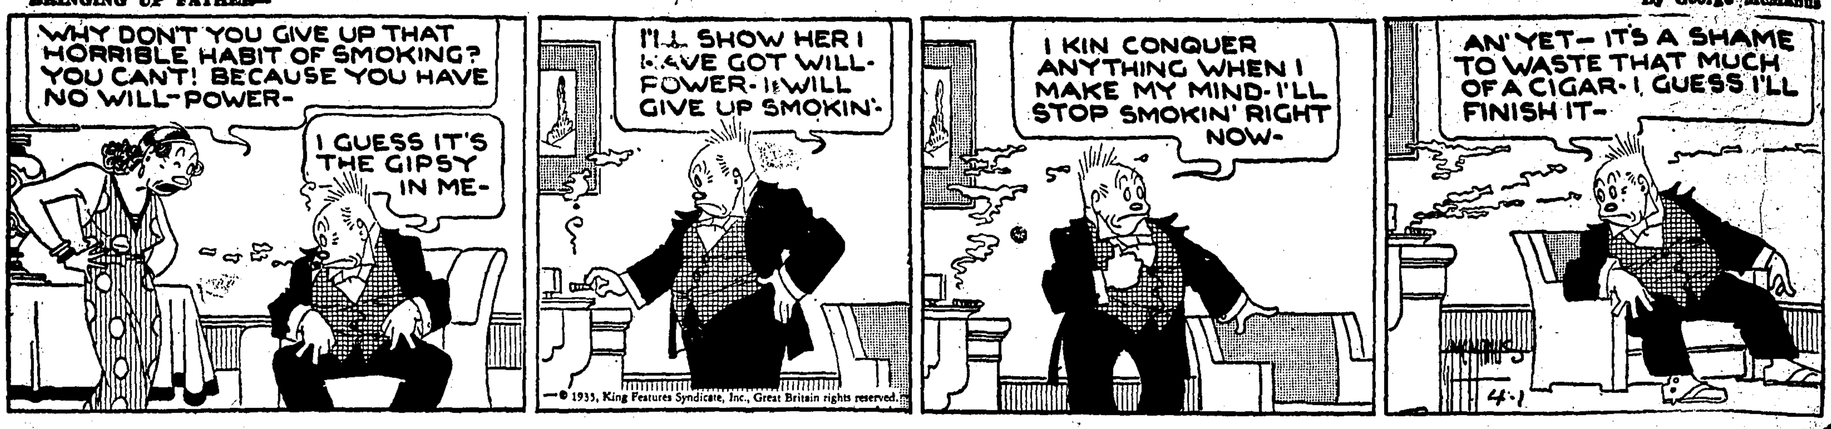

The Nebraska republican independent, who supported Smith in 1928 and Roosevelt in 1932, said the President does not have a "cinch," but that he will be re-elected "if he doesn't swing to the right."

Looking over the field of possible republican candidates, Norris said that he saw no one now that would win his support, but he said he had no idea who would be nominated by the party.

Nomination of Former President Hoover, Norris said, would mean the re-election of President Roosevelt.

Otherwise, demand was limited and prices eased off after the call with July declining to [illegible] The market was quiet later with active months 11 to 13 points net lower at the end of the first half hour.

The New York Cotton Exchange service in its revised estimate, places the world's production of commercial cotton for this season at about 22,396,000 compared with 25,562,000 the previous year and 23,665,000 two years [illegible]

Business tapered off later and the market was quieter after the close of Liverpool. July was selling around 10.98 at midday, and December 10.48 with the general market showing net losses of 8 to 12 points.

Futures closed very steady, 3-11 lower. Spot quiet; middling 11.30.

New Orleans Cotton Lower.
NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—A weak Liverpool market today served to unsettle the local cotton exchange and after opening from 3 to 9 points lower futures sold off in the early trading until losses of 18 to 27 points had been registered.

May opened at 10.95 and dropped to 10.81 and July after selling 9 points lower at the first call touched 10.95 before profit taking and short covering checked the decline.

October hit 10.33 and rallied to 10.41 and December after dropping to 10.39 was back to 10.47 in the first hour.

Liverpool cables reported a very heavy market.

Domestic markets were quick to follow the trend of the English exchange and prices dropped more than a dollar a bale in the first few minutes of trading.

[illegible] mild recovery showed futures ruling [illegible] relatively steady 15 points under the previous close.

[illegible] tapered off as the morning [illegible] the volume of dealings was held to the minimum, with prices ruling from 11 to 22 points below the previous close.

May sold at 10.90, July at 10.95 and both Oct. and Dec. transferred at 10.41 as mid-day approached.

The new crop positions were weakened and losses of 16 to 22 points were shown by next year's contracts.

Old crop positions were relatively steady.

MELLON ADMITS HE MADE DEDUCTIONS IN HIS INCOME TAXES

DEFENDS HIMSELF BY CALLING FEDERAL INCOME TAX LAWS "STRANGE"

PITTSBURGH, April 1.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon took the responsibility on the witness stand at his income tax hearing for the deductions made in his 1931 income tax report.

The financier said the country's "strange' laws governing income taxes made necessary the transactions which the government claims were fraudulent, but which Mellon claims were legitimate.

Called unexpectedly to the stand, by his chief counsel, Frank J. Hogan, Mellon was questioned concerning the sale of a huge block of Pittsburgh Coal common stock on which he claimed a tax loss of $5,600,000.

'Who conducted the sale?" asked Hogan.

"I did myself" said Mellon.

The former secretary of the treasury spoke slowly in a low but distinct tone.

"Tell us how it came about," continued Hogan, referring to the Pittsburgh coal sale.

Large Losses and Gains.

"I had under consideration the question of my tax return for the year in the office of Mr. Johnson (Howard M. Johnson, Mellon's confidential secretary)" he said. "I had large losses and shrinkage in my investments. I also had large capital gain profits upon which I was obligated to pay a capital gain tax.

I desired to select some security or securities for the purpose of the deduction allowable in that respect. The strange law which made me liable for a capital gain also allowed the privilege of reduction, so the Pittsburgh coal stock appeared to me the outstanding stock with respect to loss."

The 80-year-old three-time secretary of the treasury was the frist witness called today at the resumption of the hearing now in its seventh week. The government claims Mellon owes a tax and assessment of $3,089,000 but the banker contends he paid the government $139,000 too much.

The hearing is underway before the board of tax appeals.

Johnson, Mellon's secretary, was a witness early in the hearing and related how he made out all the financier's income tax returns. He had testified that in 1931 Mellon glanced at his report but did not study it.

Most Suitable Stock.

Mellon said, in answer to Hogan's questioning, that the Pittsburgh Coal stock "appeared to me the stock most suitable to use for the purpose" of allowing a tax reduction.

The coal stock—123,000 shares—was sold to the Union Trust Company and later repurchased by the Coalesced Company, Mellon's family holding corporation. The government describes it as a "shadow sale," deliberately planned to evade tax payment.

"At the time, I could not sell the stock on the exchange," the banker testified. "It was so large a block as to be impossible then and the only place where I might effect a sale was the nion Trust.

"After a regular meeting of the Union Trust executive committee," he continued, "I went over to the bank and took the Pittsburgh Coal question up with Mr. (H. C.) McEldowney, who was head of the bank and I said I would like to sell to the Union Trust the Pittsburgh Coal common stock.

Deal is Made.

"He asked one or two questions concerning the amount and shares of stock and with those questions he considered the matter. I said I would sell at market price and mentioned in round figures $500,000 so he considered and said 'All right, send it out and we will take it."

Hogan asked if anything was said about a re-sale, or if that was all that was mentioned.

Mellon replied:

"That comprises everything substantially that I said. After that I went back to my office and told Mr. Johnson I had sold this block of Pittsburgh Coal stock and asked him to take it to Mr. McEldowney."

Q. "What did you say regarding a price?"

Paid Amount on Note.

A. "I said it was $500,000 and then I asked him to pay the sum on my note at the Union Trust."

Previous testimony has shown Mellon owed $1,000,000 at the bank and that the $500,000 received for the stock was paid on the note.

Q. "Say anything to R. B. Mellon regarding the sale?"

A. "Yes. I said I wanted to sell my coal common and that I would pick up the part which was in the joint account."

Q. "Did you form an opinion in your own mind whether you wanted to hold this stock—regarding its value or lack of value?"

A. "It appealed to me as most available to sell with actual loss then. The coal industry was in a very bad condition."

Q "Had you come to the conclusion of its intristic value?"

A. "I didn't consider it had any intrinsic value. The only value I could see was the value of common stock in the market. It has a certain speculative value."

Walter H. McGee, Must Die For His Part in Kidnaping

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 30.—(AP)—Walter H. McGee, the first kidnaper to be sentenced to death in the United States, must pay with his life for the ransom abduction nearly two years ago of Mary McElroy, daughter of the city manager of Kansas City, the Missouri supreme court decreed today.

The court held that the "proof sufficiently substantiates the verdict of guilty," and that the "record proper discloses no error."

"Therefore," wrote Commissioner Walter H. Bohling, whose opinion was unanimously adopted, "the judgment is approved."

The court set the execution for May 10 in the Jackson county jail at Kansas City. Hanging is the method of execution in Missouri.

Miss McElroy was abducted from her South Side home about noon late in May, 1933, held for nearly 30 hours in the basement of a farm house in Wyandotte county, Kansas, and released on payment of $30,000 ransom by her father, H. F. McElroy.

Walter McGee, leader of the kidnapers, was the only one of those convicted to receive the extreme penalty.

He was arrested June 2, 1933, at Amarillo, Tex. He had $9,000 in currency and several weapons in his possession.

Clarence Stevens, one of the accused abductors, still is at large.

George McGee, brother of Walter McGee, is serving a life sentence in the Missouri penitentiary. Clarence Click is serving an 8-year sentence.

Nervous and distraught as the result of worry over the prosecution of her kidnapers, Miss McElroy disappeared from her home the night of last Feb. 11, and was located by police on a Chicago-bound motor bus at Normal, Ill., the next day.

"I was worrying so much about the case I must have lost my head," she told authorities. "I was especially upset over the thought that my testimony was to be instrumental in sending Walter McGee to his death."

Her father sai, Miss McElroy had been upset by anonymous letters and telephone calls.

Miss McElroy has made two visits to the penitentiary here to see George McGee. She has refused to say whether she will seek clemency for him.

EFFORTS TO CLARIFY CENTENNIAL BILL STARTED IN SENATE

AUSTIN, April 1.—(AP)—Efforts were launched in the senate today to strip from a entennial appropriation bill contradictory amendments added in a tumultous session Friday.

The amendments limited the total to $3,050,000 but proposed itimization totaling $3,629,500.

A substitute for the pending bill and all amendments was offered by Senator Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls, who said it was drafted at a conference of several senators and Centennial leaders.

It would provide $3,000,000 for celebrations, allotting $1,000,000 for buildings and $200,000 for equipment for the proposed central exposition at Dallas; $500,000 for advertising, and $1,300,000 for all other commemorations, specifying $200,000 for equipping a memorial museum at the University of Texas.

Responsibilitay for expenditures outside of Dallas would be transferred from the Texas Centennial commission to a commission of control for central celebrations, composed of seven members. The lieutenant governor would be a member and would appoint two others; the governor, two, and the speaker of the house two. Allocations for historical celebrations would be made by the commission.

Another pending substitute, offered by Senator Joe Hill of Henderson, would replace the variously amended proposal with the senate finance committee's recommended bill, with one provision adding $50,000 for compilation of historical data eliminated. The total would be $3,000,000 and allocations for places other than Dallas woudl be left to the centennial commission.

Senators cleared themselves from a no-debate rule by adopting 14 to 12, the variously amended proposal for the house bill. Previously it had adopted a plan advanced by Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth for one drafted by the finance committee. That action brought the question to passage to third reading.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF CENTRAL TEXAS PRESBYTERY MEETS

THREE-DAY SESSIONS CLOSED AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH FRIDAY

Fifty elected delegates from 16 Central Texas Counties closed the thirty-first annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Central Texas Presbytery at the First Presbyterian church here today after 'a three-day session. Mrs. T. A. Hooks of Waco, was re-elected president for a two-year term, and she and other officers were installed Friday afternoon.

The University Presbyterian church, Austin, was selected as next year's meeting place.

Other officers included Mrs. Will Thompson, Corsicana, vice-president; Mrs. Don Caldwell, Mexia, secretary and Mrs. Gus Farrar, Austin, treasurer.

Representatives were present from Austin, Taylor, Georgetown, Mart, Marlin, Cameron, Belton, Temple, Waco, Gatesville, Streetman and Mexia.

The sessions opened Wednesday morning with the principal address being delivered by Mrs. H. L. Cockerham of Blackey, Kentucky, one of the church's outstanding missionaries in the Kentucky mountains. She made an interesting and inspirational talk regarding the church's work in her field.

Opening Session.

The devotional was led by Dr. W. R. Hall, pastor of the host church and special music was given by the junior high school chorus. Mrs. Hooks, president, presided, and the roll was called by Mrs. Caldwell, secretary, and the address of welcome was given by Mrs. Tracy Smith, Corsicana. The response was given by Mrs. Andrew Byers, of Clifton.

Mrs. T. M. Cunningham, of Fort Worth, Synodical president, was the principal speaker at the Thursday morning meeting, and presented an inspirational outlook for next year's plans. Mrs. J. E. Watts, of Itasca, field representative for the church's orphans home also spoke Thursday morning, and told of the fine work being done by that institution.

The devotional Thursday morning was led by Mrs. V. E. Wheeler, of Corsicana, and special music was rendered by girls of the local Mexican mission. A number of committees were appointed, and reports of officers and secretaries of causes were given. A round-table discussion ended the morning meeting. Women of the Third Avenue served luncheon.

Reports Are Heard.

Thursday afternoon's meeting was devoted to reports and the election of officers. Mrs. Wheeler led the devotional and guided meditation, and the Waco auxiliary presented a birthday objective. Reports of district chairmen and local auxiliaries were given, after which a parliamentary drill was held. The nominating committee reported, the officers were elected.

Mrs. L. C. Polk entertained the delegates with a seated tea after adjournment Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Tinsley Smith, Jr., medical missionary to the Belgian Congo, Africa, was the speaker Thursday night. He and Mrs. Smith are in charge of a hospital there. He reported that he and his wife, assisted by 15 native boys handled 20,000 patients last year for consultation and medical treatment. Dr. Hall led the devotional, the subject of which was "Planning the Good Life." Mrs. Finis Farr played a violin obligato, as the special music for the occasion.

Friday Morning Speaker.

Mrs. Tinsley Smith, Jr., daughter of Mr. W. K. Minter, of Austin, pastor of the Southern Presbyterian church there, was the principal speaker Friday morning. Miss Mary Louise Woodson, head of the young people's work of the presbytery spoke at 10 o'clock Friday morning upon the subject, "Religious education in. Our Presbytery.' The devotional was led by Mrs. J. De Strauss, of Robinson, the subject of which was "Praying in the Holy Spirit." Another feature of the Friday morning meeting was a history of the local church, given by the historian.

A roundtable discussion of problems of the auxiliaries was held at 10:30 Friday morning, and was followed by a report of the executive committee. The president's message was delivered by Mrs. Hooks at 11 o'clock Friday morning, after which the Presbyterial Cause secretaries held a conference.

The newly elected officers were installed at the closing meeting Friday afternoon, and a number of reports by standing committes were read, and unfinished business was taken up. Mrs. Strauss led the devotional and guided meditation, and Rev. Charles Malloy of Mart, had charge of the installation service.

CO-ED'S ATTORNEY DEMANDS CHARGES SHALL BE FILED

VICTIM TEACHERS COLLEGE CAMPUS SHOOTING WILLING TO FORGIVE

TAMLEQUAH, Okla., March 29.—(AP)—Lois Thompson, 19-year-old Northeastern State Teachers College co-ed, was freed under $2,500 bond today after she pleaded not guilty when arraigned on a charge of assault with intent to kill Daniel Shaw, Chinese student at the college.

The girl was arraigned shortly after the charges were filed by County Attorney Sanford Martin.

She betrayed no emotion as she answered "not guilty" to the charge, filed before Peace Justice J. M. Boling.

The bond was signed by four prominent Tahlequah citiens.

W. W. Miller, attorney for the girl, said "a hundred" more persons volunteered to affix their signatures to the document.

Justice Couch set April 19 as the date for a preliminary hearing for the co-ed.

After her release she walked calmly out of the courthouse, pausing for a moment to be protaographed on the steps.

"I'm glad to be out. I am going home and rest," she said.

rights because they were indicted by a grand jury and found guilty by a trial jury from which members of their race had been systematically excluded.

During arguments before the supreme court, counsel for the defendants asserted that names of negroes had been "forged" to the jury rolls of Jackson county after the indictments had been returned.

Once before, the supreme court ordered a new trial for these and five other negroes on the ground they had been unconstitutionally deprived of the aid of counsel in preparation for the first trial.

On the second trial both again were found guilty. The others have not been retried.

...L FUTURE ...S WINNERS OF JUDGING CONTEST

TEAMS FINISHED FIRST THREE TIMES AND SECOND TWICE FOR SWEEPSTAKES

State Home judging teams, coached by George Hurt, vocational agriculture teacher, finished first three times and second twice to win the sweepstakes in the annual Future Farmer Judging contests at the State Orphans' Home Saturday, March 30th.

The thirteen schools entering teams in the contests included Italy, Ennis, Kerens, Jewett, Mexia, Eustace, Wortham, Groesbeck, Athens, Blooming Grove, State Home, Emhouse, and Mildred. Approximately 200 boys competed for team and individual honors.

The competition in the dairy judging contest was keenest with twelve teams competing. The five high teams finished in the order named: State Home, Mildred, Blooming Grove, Athens, and Ennis.

The teams placed four classes, namely: Young Jerseys, Young Holsteins, Aged Holsteins, and Aged Jerseys. The high individuals of the contest were George Austin, Jesse Gour, Sam Jones and W. Peterson, all of State Home, and Roger Steele and Fred Strother of Mildred, finishing for high point honors in the above-named order. The dairy judging contest was supervised by G. H. Fry and H. T. Lester, vocational agriculture teachers.

Poultry Judging Contest.

Seven schools were represented in the poultry judging contest. The winners of the first five places were State Home first; Mildred, second; Italy, third; Athens, fourth; and Wortham, fifth.

The poultry contest consisted of an examination on the standard of perfection for poultry, judging three classes of eggs and three classes of hens. The contest took place at Wilman's Dairy and Wilman's prize winning Rhode Island Reds and Barred Rock hens were used in the contest.

For the examination State Home Mildred and Italy finished in the order named. Italy, Athens, and Mildred teams were high in the judging of hens. In the egg judging contest State Home was first, Athens was second, and Mildred was third.

The high point men of the contest were V. Tapp, Italy, J. Harris, State Home; B. Wills, Mildred; C. Hearn, Italy, and W. Sirman, Mildred.

Other Contests.

In the Terracing contest, State Home was first; Jewett second, Kerens, third, Athens fourth, and Mexia fifth. The contest consisted of setting up and adjusting the farm level, with an oral examination on the use of the target and principles of terracing.

Groesbeck was first in the Horticulture contest with State Home second and Ennis third. The contest consisted of the making of patch buds and whip grafts. High point individuals were F. Powers, Groesbeck; C. Higgins, State Home; and P. Wisdom, Groesbeck; E. Weems Groesbeck and J. Jackson, Ennis.

First place in livestock judging went to Eustace wtih State Home second; Ennis, third; Blooming Grove, fourth and Kerens, fifth. High individuals were M. Leach, Eustace; J. Chandler, Ennis; R. Frazier, Eustice; C. Bailey, State home and M. Glass Blooming Grove.

The Crops contest was won by Mildred with Blooming Grove a close second. High individuals were W. Brannon, Mildred; and R. Tinkle, Emhouse, tied for first with E. Eaton of Mildred third.

All-contest honors for the meet went to State Home teams with Mildred second, Blooming Grove third, and Athens, fourth.

Most of the teams competing in this contest will enter the State F. F. A. Judging conest at Texas A. and M. at College Station, April 13th.

GENERAL PERSHING FOLLOWING CLOSELY THREATENING CLOUDS THAT NOW HOVER OVER EUROPE

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1.—(AP)—Threats of war and Germany's new aggressiveness have somewhat disturbed the tranquility of Gen. John Josph Pershing's winter beneath the Arizona sun.

The commander in chief of America's fighting forces in the World war is keeping a wary eye on the present situation "over there" while resting and writing his memoirs.

Piled high on a table in the cottage where he lives at a resort hotel on the desert's edge are copies of newspapers dating back more than two weeks to Adolf Hitler's announcement of Germany's new policies—moves that have alarmed the world.

Morning and afternoon General Pershing eagerly scans the accounts of the fast changing European picture, trumpeting many a fiery "Humph!" as he takes note of new demands which would mean the scrapping of the Versailles treaty.

What does he think of this new threat? Will war result? Will the United States become involved again?

The whole world perhaps would like to know his answers to these questions and others, but he has steadfastly refused to discuss this new peril to world peace. That is, he refuses to "talk for publication."

For brief moments he forgot his restraint and talked freely. But immediately he warned with military sternness:

"Now, you cant' publish that, and you must not give it to any one else who will publish it."

"I have very definite ideas about the matter," he explained. "But I cant' afford to express them for publication—it would not be right for me to do it."

A moment later, the fire gone from his eyes, the sternness from his still vigorous voice, he added smilingly:

"Yes, I have some very strong ideas—and I'm pretty sure I am right."

In much better health than when he first came here two years ago, General Pershing rides horseback in the desert, motors into the mountains, and visits ghost mining towns, historic forts, archaelogical ruins, Indian mounds, old Spanish missions, museums, and dude ranches.

Arthritis, however, still causes the 74-year-old military leader considerable trouble.

Corporation Court.

Six charges of intoxication, one of intoxication and disturbing the peace, one of running through a red light, two for vagrancy, two for affray, and two for swindling with worthless checks appeared on the docket of the Corporation Court Monday morning. The two involved on the check charges were transferred to county authorities, and the others faced Judge H. S. Melear in the municipal court.
